Pontiff Expresses the Hope America May Aid in Pacifying Europe.

Conclave Hastens Election on Account of Conditions Due to War.

Indications of Policy May Be Announced at Consistory Next Week.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
ROME, Sept. 3.—The sacred college of cardinals elected Cardinal Giacomo della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologna, supreme pontiff today to succeed the late Pope Pius X. His coronation as Benedict XV will take place September 6.
Immediately after his election the pontiff said he could not imagine how his frail being was capable of enduring the enormous weight of responsibility thrown upon his shoulders, especially at a moment when all the countries of Europe were stained with blood, when the wounds inflicted upon humanity also were inflicted on the church and when countless victims of the war were being cut down.
The war, he said, had armed faith against faithful, priest against priest, while the bishops of each country offered prayers for the success of the army.

SERBIA SENDS MORE TROOPS.

Reinforcements Dispatched to Army at the Drina River.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Star from Athens says: "The Serbians are sending as many troops as possible to reinforce those already at the River Drina. There is no truth in the report that the Austrians are withdrawing troops from the Serbian frontier and sending them to meet the Russians. On the contrary, Austria is sending more men against Serbia to prevent the Serbians entering Bosnia."

THE FIRST CONSISTORY.
The Pope has decided to hold his first consistory next Tuesday, when he will confer the red hat on Cardinal Anthony Mendes Beilo, patriarch of Lisbon, and Cardinal Giulio V. Meneses, archbishop of Toledo, Spain. Both were created cardinals by Pope Pius X. at the consistory last May.

The Pope will deliver on Tuesday his first allocution, which will give to the world the programme of his pontificate.
One of the brothers of the pontiff is an admiral in the Italian royal army and another is a captain in the Italian navy.

The first appointment made by the Pope was that of Mgr. Farolini, of the See of Pius X., to be canon of St. Peter's.

The consistory of the sacred college had been in session since the evening of Monday, August 31, and the final vote was not taken until this morning. When the name of Cardinal Della Chiesa was called out by the cardinal scrutineers as having received the prescribed two-thirds vote there was much excitement among the members of the consistory.

OLD GLORY IN BUTTE.

Flag Flies Over the City Hall.

Law and Order vs. Socialism. I.W.W. Loafers Ordered to Leave.

"Muckie" McDonald So Far Has Managed to Elude Peace Patrols.

Miners Report for Work and Quiet Reigns in Lair of Agitators.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BUTTE (Mont.) Sept. 3.—Martial law was made more effective in Butte tonight by Maj. D. J. Donohue, who named Lieut. Arthur A. Baker as news censor. A summary court was organized by Maj. Jesse J. Roote, who assumed the jurisdiction of the police judge and tried the case of seven men connected with the police. Of the 3200 miners employed on the day shifts of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company in the Butte camp, it was said that only thirty-nine failed to report for duty today. The closing of saloons is given credit by mine bosses for the large percentage of men reporting.

TRIAL OF UNIONISTS.
Members of the Western Federation of Miners were jubilant over the arrest of seven men connected with the new union. These will be tried tomorrow on charges to be preferred by the military commission.

Two of the men were held prisoner, Alexander McClain, known as the bodyguard of Muckie McDonald, president of the new miners' union, and Edward Evans, were taken today at the point of guns on their way to the supposed hiding place of McDonald. The third man, Joe Shannon, who was picked up in the city, has been prominent in the new union. McClain and Evans were armed. McClain had $170, provisions for thirty days that he was carrying to McDonald, and a letter addressed to McDonald which had been written by a miner in the Coeur d'Alenes. The writer of the letter advised McDonald to "go strong and blow up a few buildings."

McDonald, despite a twenty-four hour search, has so far eluded capture, but Maj. Donohue, commanding the militia, expects to hear of McDonald's arrest at any moment. With McDonald are two men. One of them is J. E. Bradley, vice-president of the union, and another man who has not been identified.

REPORTED.
Seven members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who were arrested in the raid by the police on their headquarters, were the first to be tried by the summary court. Four were found guilty of vagrancy, fined $100 and sentenced to three months in jail. Later the fine and sentence were suspended, providing the men would leave Butte within twelve hours.

AMERICAN FLAG FLIES NOW.
For the first time since July 4 the American flag flew from the City Hall, which, in normal times, is presided over by a Socialist administration. Provost Marshal Frank Conley, who has taken charge of the City Hall, issued the order to raise the flag. He also ordered that flags be placed over the doors of the police department in the hall.

WANT SWEDEN TO TAKE PART.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 3.—Telegraphing from Stockholm the correspondent of the Star says: "There is great anxiety felt in the Swedish capital because of the efforts Germany is making, as shown by articles in the German newspapers, to induce Sweden to abandon her attitude of neutrality and take the field as an ally of Germany. The object sought is to weaken the Russian attack in East Prussia by means of a Swedish attack on Finland."

TRAINS DELAYED IN GERMANY.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
THE HAGUE, Sept. 3. (via London, Sept. 2.)—The Austrian legation issued a statement today to the effect that owing to the mobilization of lines of German landsturm for the occupation and protection of the German lines of communication, railway traffic in Germany has been temporarily interrupted, delaying many Americans who desire to return home.

REPORT TURKS SLOW IN MOBILIZING.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 3 (via London.)—The Turkish mobilization on the Persian boundary is slow. Many Christians and Kurds have refused to join the movement. The Turks are forebodingly enrolling all persons of military age.

There has been a serious conflict between Turks and Armenians at Bitlis in Turkish Armenia.

RUSS ARMY FOR BELGIUM.

Passengers on the Mauretania Tell of Big Force Ready in England.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A Russian army of 72,000 men, transported from Archangel, Russia, was landed at Aberdeen on the east coast of Scotland on August 27, and conveyed on special trains to Harwich, Grimsby and Dover, where transports were waiting to take them to Ostend, in Belgium, according to officers and passengers of the Cunard line steamer Mauretania, which reached here tonight from Liverpool.

Every precaution was taken by the English and Russian military authorities to keep the fact that foreign soldiers were being transported to England from becoming known, and the service on the East Coast Railway lines was suspended during the seventeen hours the troop trains were on their journey. It was generally believed by those on the Mauretania who made these statements that the Russians would be joined at Ostend by British marines waiting there to receive them and that the combined forces would co-operate with the Belgian army at Antwerp.

TOUGH CONDITIONS THROUGH FRANCE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Bradford of Washington arrived in London today from Paris by way to Havre. Mr. Bradford said the situation in France, so far as tourists were concerned, was that the closing of Dieppe and Boulogne and the interruption of the railway service for military purposes made travel most uncertain. The congestion of traffic at Havre was marked and the boats say the steamers were greatly overcrowded.

Thousands of Americans are still in France and it was impossible for many of them even to get a chair on a night train. Women and children were suffering from hard experiences on the crowded boats.

SAMOA GOVERNOR ISLAND PRISONER.

NEW ZEALAND TELEGRAM SAYS GERMAN OFFICIAL IS ON THE FIJIS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 3.—A dispatch received here from Wellington, New Zealand, declares that the Governor of New Zealand has received a message stating that the German Governor of Samoa has surrendered and that he has been sent with other German prisoners to the Fiji Islands. The landing of British troops in Samoa was carried out with great expedition. The Union Jack was hoisted over the German flag at 11:30 in the afternoon of August 29.

URGES THE BOERS TO FIGHT ENGLAND.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 3.—Gen. E. J. Viljoen, who, in the Anglo-Boer war, was second commandant, and Louis Botha, the Boer commander-in-chief, cabled today to Botha at Pretoria as follows: "This is a most opportune time for South Africa to cast off English rule forever. All Boers in this country will rally to the old flag."

Viljoen is a resident of New Mexico. Before the African war he was adjutant to President Kruger. He was connected with the Mafeking relief as military adviser to the late President Madero and has been and is a consistent friend and supporter of the Constitutional cause and the new Constitutional government of Mexico.

TSING-TAU LINE IS INTERRUPTED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Commercial Cable Company issued a statement tonight saying that it had been advised by the Chinese Telegraph Company that communication with Tsing-Tau, the German base in Kiaochow, is totally interrupted.

LINES TIGHTEN AROUND PARIS; DECISIVE BATTLE IS EXPECTED.

Joffre Retires from the East to Have the Advantage of the Guns of the Fortifications.

With the Removal of the Government to Bordeaux Defenders Are Bending Every Effort to Prevent a Surprise by the Invaders—Aeroplane Patrols on Constant Guard—British Casualties Lists Made Public.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.—As the lines around Paris tighten and the German forces draw closer to the French capital the official statements regarding the progress of the war grow briefer and are more and more lacking in details.

So far as the public is concerned, little is actually known as to how the armies in the field are faring. Most of the information made public from official quarters is of a negative character, as for instance, the announcement of the French War Office that there has been no contact with the German forces in the region of Compiègne and Salines since Wednesday and the situation in the northeast has not changed.

The two towns are respectively forty-five and thirty-two miles northeast of the French capital and they appear to mark the points nearest Paris to which the German advance guards have approached.

With the removal of the government to Bordeaux all efforts around Paris have been directed to preparations for the threatened investment of the capital by the Germans. In addition, the French authorities have ordered aeroplane patrols to guard against any further raids by German aviators. A number of French aeroplanes are continually flying in the neighborhood of Paris and others are kept in readiness with guns, to attack any of the Germans who appear in the sky.

The attitude of Turkey is still awaited with anxiety and a Petrograd (St. Petersburg) dispatch says she is mobilizing on the Persian boundary, but slowly.

Another list of British casualties, officially reported at London, numbers 5228, of which 470 are killed and wounded and 4758 are missing. The list shows a large percentage of officers.

GERMAN STRENGTH SUFFICIENT TO CHECK ADVANCE OF RUSSIANS.

BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF "THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL."
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 3.—The progress of the fighting on the Russian border can now be depicted in spite of the misleading and contradictory reports. In order to gain an immediate entry into the German and Austrian territory Russia concentrated her first forces in two armies. The northern army was given as its object the occupation of East Prussia. Similarly the southern army was sent forward to seize Galicia.

The military advantage to Germany of her great railway systems shows up clearly in this East Prussian campaign. Having a better railroad service, Germany sent forward her reserve armies to the theater of operations faster than Russia could bring up reinforcements from her remote provinces. The first result is that Germany gains for her army a sufficient strength to check the Russian advance. This condition is necessarily temporary as the supply of troops in Germany is more limited than that of Russia. The latter can keep steadily sending forward her reinforcements until her armies again have sufficient superiority in numbers to overcome the German resistance.

AUSTRIA'S DELAYING GAME.
In Eastern Galicia, Austria has been fighting a delaying action. She has sent against the Russian southern army only sufficient troops to obstruct their progress.

THE CAPTURE OF LA FERRE.
The reported capture of La Ferre means more than the retirement of the allies to a new line. It means that the Germans are present in sufficient force on both sides of this district to bring up their heavy siege ar-illery and to reduce the force of the defensive circles by bombardment. The presence of siege guns and their ammunition so close to the front indicates a well-conducted supply system and a sufficiency of transport.

The loss of this strong point in the allies' line must necessarily cause their withdrawal to the line of the Aisne River unless their counterstroke is delivered in time to relieve this portion of the line from the German pressure.

Incidents of all sorts show the trend of events. Passenger train services in France are almost suspended; obviously France is now making her extreme effort to mass along the battle line the reserve corps that are dependent upon the carry out the next step in her plan of operations. The thorough preparation of Paris for defense indicates that a further withdrawal of the allies' line may be carried out, bringing them back to the line of the River Marne before their forces at the front have concentrated in sufficient strength to warrant the aggressive move that they must carry out in order to clear France of the invading armies.

In addition to garrisoning Paris and her various fortified lines, France has at least 1,700,000 men to put in the line of battle.

Allowing for the forces that Germany must necessarily send against Russia, it is improbable that she can maintain on the French border, actually on the fighting line more than 700,000 men.

NIGHT OF TERROR IN LOUVAIN DESCRIBED BY AN EYEWITNESS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 3 (via London.)—A vivid description of the sufferings in Louvain was given today by a Dutchman who arrived in Breda. He was a prominent resident in Louvain when the war broke out.

"We Dutchmen in Louvain," he said, "at first had nothing to fear from the German soldiers, but all the houses that had been abandoned by their owners were ransacked, notwithstanding the warnings of the military authorities, forbidding the troops to pillage."

"In Louvain, as in all other towns they occupied, the Germans imprisoned as hostages of war the burgomasters, the magistrates and a number of influential citizens."

"Before the Germans entered the town the civic guard was disbanded

Paris Ready for Siege Joffre Expects to Fight Decisive Battle at Capital

FLIGHTS CROWDING ROADS TO BORDEAUX.

Unbroken Procession of Automobiles With Partisans and Their Luggage.

Capital of France Reconciles Itself to the Belief That It Is Again to Undergo a Siege and That Joffre Has Retired Merely to Meet the Enemy Under the Guns of the Forts.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, Sept. 3, 5:50 p.m.—Paris again today showed its remarkable adaptability to circumstances. Though all allusions to such a contingency had been strictly forbidden in the newspapers, that the government would be transferred to Bordeaux was an open secret several days ago among the journalists and public officials and in military circles.

Among these persons the effect of the announcement had been largely discounted. The public, after its first surprise, is viewing the situation with composure, and tonight there seems to be a better feeling all around.

Military secrets are being so well guarded that all reference to them is largely speculation; but it is a reasonable supposition that Gen. Joffre prefers to accept a decisive battle against the Germans in front of the forts and the entrenched camp of Paris.

Beginning tonight no persons may leave the city after 5 o'clock in the morning without a military pass. Automobiles may enter freely during the day but cannot leave without permits.

Persons are permitted to pass without challenge through certain gates while other gates are closed. Gardens are bringing fresh vegetables to the city are permitted access at half-hour intervals during the night.

THE EXODUS. Walter Burley Griffin, the American artist, returned today from Nantes. He observed along a beautiful road from Paris to Orléans an almost unbroken procession of automobiles loaded with Parisians and their baggage. About every 150 yards was a disabled machine. He said it appeared as though the taxis in Paris were going southward.

VIEW OF THE "TEMPE". The Times this evening printed another article, in which it predicted final success for the allies. The newspaper's reasons for its optimism are contained in the following remarks of the situation as the Tempe sees it:

"Diminution of pressure by the enemy on the left wing of the allied line, absolute inactivity in the center, and the progress of the French troops in Lorraine and on the right bank of the Moselle, places a few miles north of Lunéville, in the department of Meurthe et Moselle, the circumstances are taken by the Tempe as evidence that the enemy has been hard hit and is suffering from losses in men and in lack of supplies."

The Liberto quotes an English officer who arrived here this morning from Pierrefitte, twenty-eight miles southeast of the front, as saying he was wounded in a fierce battle near Compiègne, in which the Germans were driven back several times with heavy losses. He said that the moment that he was wounded by a shell the French and English offensive was successful over a front of several miles, the Germans retreating toward the left.

The Times announces its intention to publish the government's report to Bordeaux and publish there.

POINCARÉ'S DEPARTURE. Two trains reserved for the President and the members of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies left for Bordeaux yesterday. Fifteen judges of the Court of Cassation also will transfer the provisional capital of France. In addition to the American Ambassador, M. T. Herrick, the Swiss Minister, M. Lardy, also has decided to go to Paris.

The new American Ambassador to France, William Graves Sharp, together with Robert Jackson, former American Ambassador, arrived in Paris last night.

Mr. Herrick's reasons for remaining in substance are to better look after the several thousand Americans who stay in Paris. They are principally permanent residents in business. He also feels that he can better protect American business interests, among them several American banks and banking agencies with deposits of Americans. These would have transferred their cash elsewhere had not the Ambassador remained. The American Minister has sent J. W. Garrett, Minister to Argentina; Louis A. Sussdorf, Jr., of New York, third

VESSEL FOR LOS ANGELES HAS MILLION DOLLAR CARGO

BOSTON (Mass.) Sept. 3.—Laden with over $1,000,000 of cargo the new steamer Atlantic of the Emery line, the first vessel to be finished of two that are to ply between here and Pacific ports, left Boston today en route for Los Angeles and San Francisco, via the Panama Canal. The Atlantic, Capt. Meach, carried the biggest coastwise cargo that has ever passed Boston Light. Over 8000 tons of merchandise, all of it New England made, and ranging from toys to printing presses, filled the ship to the hatch combines. Her manifest reads like a complete list of New England manufactures, including automobile accessories and sing wets baskets. The Atlantic will make no stop at Seattle. On her return she may call at Seattle. On her return the Atlantic will be laden with canned salmon, canned and dried fruits.

In future she will carry shingles, lumber and other Pacific Coast prod-secretary of the embassy, and Capt. Parker, military attaché, to be with the French government at Bordeaux, with the approval of Secretary Bryan. The American embassy is now charged with British, Russian, Japanese, Serbian, German and Austrian affairs in Paris.

The population of the capital is taking the departure of the heads of government calmly, recognizing that it is a matter of prudence. The people feel keenly the approach of the German army and they are rapidly preparing for whatever may happen. Many families left for the West today, taking with them household necessities. These refugees from the capital have been forced to make very long detours because the railroads are encumbered with military trains. The railroad lines out of Paris to the north have virtually ceased running trains, owing to the fear of possible raids by German cavalry.

The audacious daily flights of German aviators over Paris are now viewed with curious interest. The people are quickly acclimating themselves to the sight and they believe that the effect of the bombs thrown from these aeroplanes has been exaggerated.

PROCLAMATION. Gen. Gallieni, commander of the army defending the city, today issued the following proclamation to the inhabitants of Paris:

"The members of the government of the republic have left Paris in order to give a new impetus to the defense of the nation. I have ordered to defend Paris against the invader. This order I will fulfill to the end."

ENTRENCHMENT. An immense and complicated system of entrenchments is being constructed outside the city. It is reported that the engineers in charge of the work are keeping several hundred thousand men busy.

WASHINGTON HEARS OF FRENCH DEFEAT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Advices of the withdrawal of the left wing of the allies toward Paris and the removal of the French capital to Bordeaux was contained in a private dispatch received at the French embassy today from Paris. The cablegram bears yesterday's date.

"On account of the turning movement of the Germans toward our left wing and in order not to accept battle under conditions which might have been unfair, our troops withdrew toward the south and southwest," it said.

"Our forces have stopped for the time being in the center and on our right. The situation remains the same in the center and on our right. In Western Prussia two Russian army corps have suffered a reverse, but one that can be repaired between the 27th and 29th. The investing of Koenigsberg in Eastern Prussia is now nearly complete."

The dispatch added that at the request of the commanding general at Paris, who feared that the general's defense of the city, the capital would be removed from Paris to Bordeaux.

POINCARÉ ARRIVES IN NEW CAPITAL.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BORDEAUX (France) Sept. 3.—President Poincaré and the members of the French Cabinet arrived here today and were greeted by immense and cheering crowds. They have established headquarters at the government.

President Poincaré has taken a residence in the prefecture. The ministry of war is located in one of the buildings of the University of Bordeaux. Offices for the other ministries have been located in various public buildings. Trains from Paris are arriving every half-hour, bringing the members of the foreign embassies and legations and many functionaries of the State.

The hotels, boarding-houses and private homes are overcrowded with the new arrivals, who include officials of various grades, number probably 5000.

FRENCH LOSSES AT COMPIEGNE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Paris correspondent of the Mail sends the following dispatch:

"I have just returned from Compiègne. The English have left town. The bridges over the Oise were blown up this (Monday) morning. The Germans were expected hourly."

"The important section of the battle which drove back the allies left was fought at Bapaume Thursday and Friday. On Friday morning the Germans brought up many machine guns in a dense fog and in a six hours' engagement the French suffered severely. A British force under Sir John French and occupied the French position and allowed the weary French to retire. The British then pressed, the British continued to fight a magnificent rear-guard action."

Night of Terror.

the people to keep calm, declaring that was the only way in which to prevent harm being done them.

"A few days after the entry of the German troops the German military authorities agreed to cease lodging the men in private houses upon the payment of 100,000 francs ($20,000) daily. In some of the houses between forty and fifty men had been stopping."

"The beautiful rooms in the town hall, where civil marriages took place, were used as a stable for the cavalry horses."

"On Sunday, August 23, influential people were aroused from their beds. We were informed that an order had been given for 350 mattresses, 300 pounds of coffee, 250 loaves of bread and 500 eggs, and that they must be at the market place within an hour."

On turning out we found the burgo-master standing in the market place, and crowds of citizens, half-naked or in their night clothes, carrying everything they could lay hands on to the market place in order that no harm might befall their burgo-master. After this had been done the German officer in command told us that his orders had been misinterpreted—that he only wanted mattresses.

"All houses in the fashionable parts of the town and on the boulevard had to be lighted through the night by order of the German authorities. The doors of houses had to be left open."

"On Tuesday, August 25, many of the troops had left town. We had a few soldiers in our house. At 8 o'clock in the evening when everything was ready for dinner, alarm signals were sent out and the soldiers rushed through the air and cries and groans arose on all sides."

"We did not dare to leave our houses and took refuge in the cellars, where we stayed through the long and dark night. The shelter was lighted by the reflections of burning houses. Firing continued unceasingly and we were aware at any moment that our house would be burned over our heads."

"At break of day I crawled from the cellar to the street door and saw nothing but a raging sea of fire. At 9 o'clock the shooting had diminished. We reached our house at 1 o'clock. The situation, abandoning our home and all our belongings except what we could carry."

"We rushed out. What we saw on the way to the station was hardly describable. Everything was burning; the streets were covered with bodies of victims who had been shot, some of them half burned."

"Everywhere proclamations had been posted, summoning every man to assist in extinguishing the flames and ordering women and children to stay in the houses. The station was crowded with fugitives. I was trying to show an officer my papers when the soldiers separated me from my children. From Mont I hear we were useless. A lot of us were marched off to a big shed in the freight yard from where we could see the burning of the city. Beautiful historical monuments being burned."

"Shortly afterwards German soldiers drove before them 300 men and lads to the corner of the boulevard Van Tienen and Maria Theresa street opposite the Cafe Varmalen. There they were shot. The sight filled us with horror."

"The burgo-master, two magistrates, the rector of the university, and all the police officials already had been shot."

"With our hands bound behind our backs, we were then marched off by soldiers without having seen our wives and children. From Mont I hear we had a full view of the burning town. The Church of St. Pierre was in flames, while the troops incessantly sent shot after shot into the unfortunate town."

"We came through the village of Herent, where another group of prisoners, including half a dozen priests, joined us."

"Suddenly at 1 o'clock, evoked by the result of some false alarm, we were ordered to kneel, and soldiers stood behind us, with their rifles ready to fire, using us as shields. Fortunately for us nothing happened. After a delay of half an hour, our march was continued. No conversation was allowed and the soldiers continually maltreated us. One soldier struck me with the butt end of his rifle. I could hardly wait any farther, but had to."

"We were choked with thirst, but the Germans wanted every drinker of water without offering us a drop. At 7 o'clock that night we arrived at a Belgian town. The British and two German soldiers. Then an officer told us that we could go back to Louvain."

BARS AMERICAN CRUISER FROM THE DARDANELLES.

Turkey Declines to Grant Request of United States to Allow the North Carolina to Convey Relief Funds to Refugees in Constantinople—Declaration of War Against Russia Momentarily Expected.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Turkey has declined to grant the request of the United States for permission to send the cruiser North Carolina through the Dardanelles to Constantinople to deliver $150,000 in gold deposited here for the relief of Americans in the Ottoman empire.

The Grand Visier has informed the American government that the waters of the Dardanelles have been mined and that it would be unsafe for a vessel as large as the North Carolina to go through the straits. He declared also that it might establish a precedent for the passage of other foreign warships and suggested that the American naval yacht Scorpion, on duty constantly in Turkish waters, along with other light vessels that serve foreign missions, be sent to sea to meet the North Carolina.

This was the substance of a long cablegram received at the White House and State Department today from Ambassador Morgenthau, the first message from him in several days. He made no mention of any declaration of war, but referred to the diplomatic situation as highly critical.

The Ambassador reported that all Americans who wished to leave had done so and he thought funds aboard the North Carolina would be sufficient for immediate needs.

MAY SEND SCORPION. In view of the delicate situation the American Ambassador suggested that the plan of sending the Scorpion to meet the North Carolina outside the straits be adopted. The incident was discussed at the Navy and State departments today and the Navy said it would start tomorrow for the Mediterranean. She probably will touch at Italian ports and take aboard Assistant Secretary Breckenridge, reaching the Dardanelles in a week or ten days.

By the time of her arrival, officials expect Turkey will have declared war on either Russia or Great Britain. That night the church was lighted up by the past relations between the ports and take aboard Assistant Secretary Breckenridge, reaching the Dardanelles in a week or ten days.

The incident served to recall to officials the first declaration of war probably would be against Russia and that Turkey's delay in announcing her intentions was due to her desire to complete military preparations.

TURKISH MOBILIZATION. The Turkish Ambassador said the Turkish mobilization had been in progress for nearly a month and believed 500,000 or possibly 1,000,000 men had been enrolled. He reiterated that the mobilization was not aimed at Greece or Bulgaria.

Diplomats generally believe Greece will immediately align herself with the allies against Turkey if the latter declares war. The expectations also are growing that Italy is preparing to side with the allies. If she intended to stand by Germany and Austria, they believe, notification already would have been sent to Italian ships to stay in neutral ports and avoid British war vessels.

INVASION. The Turkish situation was discussed today by Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, and A. Rustem Bey, the Turkish Ambassador, and also occupied the attention of British and French Ambassadors. From Turkish officials it was learned that the first declaration of war probably would be against Russia and that Turkey's delay in announcing her intentions was due to her desire to complete military preparations.

CHARGE THREE MEN WITH FORGERY.

PRESIDENT OF DUTCH BANK UN-EARTHED ALLEGED SWINDLE AT PORTLAND.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 3.—Robert J. Snow, a real estate agent; W. J. Summers, a building contractor, and J. W. Mathes, Vice-Consul here for The Netherlands, were arrested today as the result of the unearthing of an alleged swindle by which the International Mortgage Bank of Apeldoorn, Holland, is said to have been defrauded of more than $100,000 by means of forged mortgages.

The arrests were made following the arrival here of C. A. Baaker, president of the bank. His trip was made to examine the bank's loans in this territory, and after completing his investigation he swore to complaints charging forgery against the three men named.

LABOR MEMBERS INDORSED. Trades Union Congress Approves Efforts to Secure Permits for English Army Without Conscription.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Union Congress has issued a manifesto expressing approval of the efforts which the Labor members in the House of Commons are making in connection with the compulsory service of other parties to stimulate recruiting.

The manifesto states that in the event of the voluntary system of military service proving inadequate at the present time, the need would result in greatly strengthening the advocacy of compulsory service. Accordingly, the method of the nation should rally to the defense of the country in such numbers as will demonstrate to the world that a free people can rise to the supreme heights of great sacrifice without the whip of conscription."

Business Not Affected

The publication in The Times last of 3234 inches of paid advertising under conditions have not been disturbed.

In the issue mentioned The Times inches over the corresponding Sunday most as much paid advertising as the combined.

Last Sunday's Times contained within its next nearest local content "liner" advertisements than the two Los Angeles morning papers put.

It is not at all remarkable for the volume of advertising regularly increase their advertising business, but gain over the tremendous volume of a ponding issue of 1913 is indeed a not.

The stability and pulling power of merges its local contemporaries in the and the overwhelming preference of Times as an advertising medium make of distribution in Los Angeles and other Times' advertising columns.

TRADE MEASURE IS AGREED UPON

The Anti-Trust Program Advances One Step.

Court of Appeal Empowered to Review Decisions.

Clayton Bill Is Considered in Joint Conference.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Completion of the administration anti-trust legislative program was advanced a step further today when the Conference Committee on the Federal Trade Commission Bill reached an agreement. The conference report will be submitted in both houses tomorrow.

Although the conferees rewrote many sections relating to the organization of the new commission, the changes largely were matters of phraseology. Principal changes made relate to the provisions for court review, appeals from decrees of the commission to be made direct to the Court of Appeals, from which there can be appeal only upon writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court.

Prohibition of "unfair methods of competition" is substituted for "unfair competition" by the conferees, who made no attempt to define what constitutes such unfair methods.

Wide divergence of views of the district courts in patent cases was the argument which led to the determination to provide for review in the Court of Appeals. An agreement on this conflict, it is argued, would thus be greatly reduced, there being only eight circuit courts of appeal, while there are thirty district courts.

The Clayton Anti-Trust Bill, passed yesterday by the Senate, went to conference today. An agreement on this measure will complete the program.

RISK BUREAU IS ORGANIZED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The government bureau of marine war risk insurance began organization today, but quoted no rates and received no requests for insurance.

In the opinion of officials there is little possibility of applications until President Wilson issues his proclamation tomorrow altering navigation laws as provided in the bill permitting payment of foreign war risk to come under the American flag.

VON BERNSTORFF CALLS ON WILSON.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, called on President Wilson today for the first time since his return from Germany. He was received in the blue room and the European war was not mentioned. The Ambassador merely paid a courtesy call, his call lasting only a few minutes.

Only a Few Soldiers Left to Guard the Town.

AMBIENS, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from Amiens, France, to the Daily Mail, dated September 1, declares that the Germans have taken possession of Amiens, after three days' fighting.

Amiens is the capital of the Department of Somme. It is seventy miles directly north of Paris. It is a manufacturing city and has a population of 50,000. It is on the line of railroad to Boulogne, and about fifty miles to the west of Le Terno and other points in the Department of Aisne, where there has been fighting during the last few days between the allied armies and the Germans.

The dispatch adds that the success of the Germans at Moreuil made the capture of Amiens certain. The entry was not contested. The Mayor, after receiving a German envoy, announced the surrender of the city and urged the citizens to make no disturbance.

QUIET CAPTURE. "It was 7 o'clock Sunday evening," said the Mail correspondent, "when a party of Uhlans entered Amiens by the Rue Jules Barry. After a brief reconnaissance they retired to the German main body at Camon. A half hour later they returned accompanied by an envoy bearing a white flag. The latter interviewed Mayor Fiquet at the Town Hall. After a brief discussion the Mayor appeared in front of the Town Hall with trumpeters and officially announced the surrender of the city. He urged that the citizens make no disturbance."

"Later the Mayor and municipal councilors drove in carriages to pay a formal visit to the German commander, who told them that they would be held personally responsible with their lives for the good conduct of the citizens."

TRADE MEASURE IS AGREED UPON.

The Anti-Trust Programme
Advances One Step.

Court of Appeal Empowered to Review Decisions.

Clayton Bill Is Considered in Joint Conference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Commissioner of the administration anti-trust legislative programme was advanced a step further today when the Conference Committee on the Federal Trade Commission Bill reached an agreement. The conference report will be submitted in both houses tomorrow.

Although the conferees wrote many sections relating to the organization of the new commission, the changes largely were matters of phrasing. Principal changes made relate to the provisions for court review, appeals from decrees of the tiorari to the Supreme Court.

competition" by the conferees, who made no attempt to define what constitutes such unfair methods.

Wide divergence of views of the district courts in patent cases was the argument which led to the determination to provide for review in the Court of Appeal direct. Danger of conflict, it is argued, would thus be greatly reduced, there being only eight circuit courts of appeal, while there are thirty district courts.

The Clayton Anti-Trust Bill, passed yesterday by the Senate, went to conference today. An agreement on this measure will complete the programme.

RISK BUREAU

WILSON'S PROCLAMATION FOR ALTERING NAVIGATION LAW IS DUE TODAY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The government bureau of marine war risk insurance began organization today, but quoted no rates and received no
requests for insurance.

In the opinion of officials there is little probability of applications until President Wilson issues his proclamation tomorrow altering navigation laws as provided in the bill permitting ships of foreign register to come under the American flag.

VON BERNSTORFF

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, called on President Wilson today for the first time since his return from Germany. He was accompanied by his wife and the European war was not mentioned, the Ambassador merely paying his respects and his call being only a few minutes.

alleged German outrages, probably will be received by President Wilson today that he had no official word of the coming of the commis-

BUSINESS NOT AFFECTED BY WAR.

The publication in The Times last Sunday of the enormous volume of 324 inches of paid advertising clearly indicates that local business conditions have not been disturbed by the war in Europe.

In the issue mentioned The Times not only made a gain of 1403 inches over the corresponding Sunday of last year, but it printed almost as much paid advertising as the two other local morning papers combined.

Last Sunday's Times contained 2724 more inches of advertising than its next nearest local contemporary, and 1022 more separate "lines" advertisements than the total number printed by the other two Los Angeles morning papers put together.

It is not at all remarkable for newspapers which print only half of the volume of advertising regularly published in The Times to increase their advertising business, but for this newspaper to make a gain over the tremendous volume of advertising printed in the corresponding issue of 1913 is indeed a notable achievement.

The stability and pulling power of The Times' circulation is primarily responsible for the regularity with which this newspaper subscribes its local contemporaries in the volume of advertising printed; and the overwhelming preference of local business men for The Times as an advertising medium makes it plain that the only sure way of developing profitable sales, moving goods, and reducing the cost of distribution in Los Angeles and contiguous territory is through The Times' advertising columns.

GOV.-GEN. HARRISON REPORTS
HEAVY DAMAGE DUE TO RAINFALL.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Seven Filipinos and one American were drowned in a flood which swept Manila after a rainfall of more than a week, according to a message today from Gov.-Gen. Harrison. During the forty-eight hours ending at midnight
Tuesday 16.4 inches of rain fell.

The lower sections of Manila were flooded to a depth of from three to five feet during the tide yesterday.

The Filipinos were lost from overturned canoes and the American, whose name is not given, was drowned in Laguna Bay. The center apex of the bridge of Spain is reported as sagging about sixteen inches in consequence of the flood.

Gov. Harrison's report says no horses were destroyed in Manila, and rapid work by insular government and city authorities prevented loss of life.
Five thousand men, women and children were removed in rowboats to higher ground. Losses of goods in warehouses is estimated at $35,000.

In several districts of the city bridges and streets were damaged and the water flooded the furnace-room of the Street Railway and Power Company. From 1 a.m. September 1 no trains ran, the night of the second.

Today's programme was almost entirely given up to the annual address of Commander-in-Chief Clegg and routine business. The latter included reports of committees and national officers.

The Women's Relief Corps elected
officers, and the election was marked
by several spirited contests. Mrs.
Sarah E. Fulton of Rochester, N. Y.,
was made president.

DEATH LOSS LESS.

The report of Oscar A. James of Detroit, Adjutant-General of the Grand Army of the Republic, showed that "On January 1, 1913, there were 185,113 members in good standing in the organization, and on January 1, 1914, there were 171,325, a net loss
of 13,788 members, as against a loss of 11,119 for last year. The loss of members during the year was 11,119, which is 131
less than a year ago."

Mrs. Beale A. Bowser of Indianapolis was today elected president of the Daughters of Veterans' Auxiliary. The United States Veterans Signal Association has elected George Carr Rome,
Manassas, Va., president.

AMERICAN ANTHEM.

A plea for the perpetuation of "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the American anthem, without alloy, was made fervently by Commander-in-Chief Gardner. He urged the old soldiers to join in a movement to give special
honor to this song, and to discourage the practice of playing it in medley with such flippant and comparatively meaningless ditties as
"Yankee Doodle" and "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home." He said
there was something inspiring in an audience rising and standing unco-ered at the majestic strains of the national anthem, but it was "incongruous, bordering even on the ridiculous," for the band to strike up some
other national air in medley with this,
and to observe the audience resume
sitting in "an irregular, half-ashamed manner." It was better not to rise at all when the national hymn is played in medley, he said.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS.

A recommendation that permanent
headquarters for the G.A.R. be established in Washington was made at point of his address. Chicago and Philadelphia had been proposed, but he preferred the national capital, and thought it possible that necessary
space should be secured in a government building where the officers could keep closely in touch with the national headquarters.

SMALLER COMMITTEE.

A standing committee of seven persons, with the Commander-in-Chief and Adjutant-General of the G.A.R. as ex-officio members, he also recommended, principally for the purpose of taking charge of all legislation which had the endorsement of the order. He said that such a committee would "concentrate responsibility, reduce expense and give promise of better results."

SOLDIERS' HOMES.

He urged that no change be made in the method of management of the soldiers' homes which are scattered throughout the United States. Considering the matter he said:
"Not a single complaint has come to the knowledge of the Commander-in-Chief from any member of any home during this administrative year.
It is known that an effort is being made to place these homes, now under the care and supervision of our comrades, subject to the approval of the War Department, into the custody of men who never saw military service in actual war and whose sympathies are not so likely to be directed toward our comrades in their declining years.
This seems to be a case where the old rule, 'Let well enough alone,' in my judgment, should say to Congress that the Grand Army of the Republic is decidedly against the proposed change."

MRS. JAMESON ELECTED.

Mrs. Mary A. Jameson of Marine City, Mich., was elected president of the Ladies of the G.A.R.
The Sons of Veterans chose Charles
F. Sherman of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Commander-in-Chief, and the Women's Auxiliary honored Mrs. Beale Wallace Bowser of Indianapolis with the presidency.

BADGE OF GOLD
FOR MRS. BROWN.

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—Business took the place of sightseeing and other amusements of the G.A.R. men and women today. California delegates to the Women's Relief Corps had the satisfaction of seeing their candidate for national president, Mrs. Sarah E.
Fulton of New York, elected this afternoon. Retiring president, Mrs. Edith Brown of California, was the winner of many beautiful presents, a handsome gold badge, a gift from the organization, among them.

Mrs. Sarah Hovel of Los Angeles was a party to a glad reunion upon the arrival here of her two brothers, J. L.
Edwards of Oakland and John W. Edwards of Newcastle, Pa. This was the first time the veterans had met in thirty-two years.

California will fight hard at the convention Friday for the election of the Rev. Orville E. Nave of Los Angeles for chaplain-in-chief. Their choice for commander-in-chief is David W. Palmer of Iowa, whose election is practically conceded tonight.

All the Los Angeles and California veterans are in the best of health and spirit and are loud in praise of Detroit's hospitality.

"We are very well pleased with our visit to Detroit," said W. M. Sapp, commander of Stanton Post, Los Angeles. "The hospitality, the friendliness, the cordiality of it all have appealed to us."

G.A.R. RANKS SHOW DEPLETION

Eleven Thousand Names on Year's List of Dead.

"Star-Spangled Banner" as the American Anthem.

Recommendation Made by Commander-in-Chief.

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—With the spectacular features of the forty-eighth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic practically concluded, the selection of a city for next year's rallying ground attracted the veterans' attention today. Much sentiment was manifest in favor of Washington, D. C.

The meeting place, however, will not be definitely decided upon until late tomorrow or Saturday.

Today's programme was almost entirely given up to the annual address of Commander-in-Chief Clegg
and routine business. The latter included reports of committees and national officers.

The Women's Relief Corps elected
officers, and the election was marked
by several spirited contests. Mrs.
Sarah E. Fulton of Rochester, N. Y.,
was made president.

DEATH LOSS LESS.

Detroit, Adjutant-General of the Grand Army of the Republic, showed
that "On January 1, 1913, there were 185,113 members in good standing in the organization, and on January 1, 1914, there were 171,325, a net loss
of 13,788 members, as against a loss of 11,119 for last year. The loss of members during the year was 11,119, which is 131
less than a year ago."

Mrs. Beale A. Bowser of Indianapolis was today elected president of the Daughters of Veterans' Auxiliary. The United States Veterans Signal Association has elected George Carr Rome,
Manassas, Va., president.

AMERICAN ANTHEM.

A plea for the perpetuation of "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the American anthem, without alloy, was made
fervently by Commander-in-Chief Gardner. He urged the old soldiers
to join in a movement to give special
honor to this song, and to discourage the practice of playing it in
medley with such flippant and comparatively meaningless ditties as
"Yankee Doodle" and "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home." He said
there was something inspiring in an
audience rising and standing unco-
ered at the majestic strains of the national anthem, but it was "incongruous, bordering even on the ridiculous," for the band to strike up some
other national air in medley with this,
and to observe the audience resume
sitting in "an irregular, half-ashamed
manner." It was better not to rise
at all when the national hymn is
played in medley, he said.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS.

A recommendation that permanent
headquarters for the G.A.R. be established in Washington was made at point of his address. Chicago and Philadelphia had been proposed, but
he preferred the national capital, and
thought it possible that necessary
space should be secured in a government building where the officers could
keep closely in touch with the national headquarters.

SMALLER COMMITTEE.

A standing committee of seven
persons, with the Commander-in-
Chief and Adjutant-General of the
G.A.R. as ex-officio members, he also

mulia, the cardinal being asked as to whether he accepted the election.
Amid breathless silence he answered in the affirmative but his reply, owing to profound emotion, was scarcely audible. Immediately all the cardinals removed the canopies from above their chairs, this being the tangible sign that the leadership of the church had passed from them to the newly-elected Pope.

Later during the course of a reception of laymen, the Pope spoke of America, which he said was especially dear to him. He expressed great admiration for the genius of its people, which was comparable only to their religious zeal, and he added:
"I am glad that my first apostolic benediction abroad will be forwarded to America, where the American cardinals will at a later date impart
it to the people directly."

The pontiff also expressed the hope that with America in favor of peace
the prayers raised to the Almighty throughout the world would mean that peace would come soon.

In the history of papal conclaves the present conclave was unique, inasmuch as there had been no election of any cardinal was possible, while in previous conclaves there were special designations.

ROSE BEFORE CHAIR.

On the election of Cardinal Della Chiesa, Monsignor Poggiani, secretary of the conclave, with the master of ceremonies, the dean of the cardinals, and the dean of the church, bowed before the chair in which Cardinal Della Chiesa was seated.

In answer to the question of the dean of the cardinals the new Pope said he desired to take the name of Benedict XV.

Monsignor Poggiani, assisted by the other officials, recorded the act of election and the acceptance and the members of the conclave then entered the Sistine Chapel to receive the Pope.
The pontiff was clothed in a flowing white robe, red slippers and high stock with a wooden red cross. Cardinal Della Volpe placed over his shoulders a red stole, embroidered with gold. The Pope then mounted to the throne to receive the homage of the cardinals.

The cardinals first kissed the feet of the pontiff, who then received the homage of the cardinals. The pontiff then received the homage of the cardinals.
The pontiff then received the homage of
the cardinals.

When the Pope was asked to present himself before the people for the first benediction, he declined to do so, but he did appear in the Sistine Chapel to the cardinals.

Crowds gathered to see the Pope, and the cardinals, including Cardinals Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell, tried to calm the assembly and obtain access.

MULTITUDE IS HUSHED.

The excitement reached a climax when the Pope appeared. He was alone and a hush fell over the multitude. All knelt, and the pontiff raised his hand, with three fingers outstretched and imparted with melancholy voice the apostolic blessing.
A great cheer rang out as he turned to the Sistine Chapel.

Even in the conclave the election of the new Pope caused much excitement. The cardinal secretary of state and addressed to him their greetings and congratulations in Latin. All wished to be the first to kiss his hand.
Cardinal Gibbons, being the head of the delegation, was the first to reach Rome shortly before noon today, expressed their gratification at the election of the new Pope.
The pontiff embraced them tenderly and said he appreciated the efforts
they had made to bring him to Rome for the conclave, as much personal discomfort.

SKETCH OF NEW POPE.

Cardinal Giacomo Della Chiesa, who was created a cardinal May 25, 1914. He is the Archbishop of Bologna. He was born at Fagnola, in the diocese of Genoa.
November 21, 1854. He was ordained a priest December 21, 1878. He served as secretary of the Nunciature in Spain from 1882 to 1887. In which year he was appointed secretary to the late Cardinal Rampolla. He was appointed sub-secretary of state in 1901 and in 1907 he was promoted to the post of adviser to the holy office. In 1907 he was appointed Papal Nuncio of Madrid. In succession to Mr. Rianaldini, but this appointment was cancelled three days later. This incident had occurred before he was made Archbishop of Bologna. When Mr. Della Chiesa was given this post it was declared in Rome that it was made with the object of combining modern religious ideas with the traditional religious ideas of the National Democratic League, whose members advocated the idea of "moderation" in religion. In January, 1914, while still at Bologna, the present Pope issued a pastoral letter strongly condemning the league.

It has been 174 years since the time of the last Pope Benedict. On his election to the papacy in 1740, Cardinal Prospero Lambertini assumed that title. It is an interesting fact that the new Pope was Archbishop of Bologna while Pope Benedict XIV was born in Bologna.

As secretary to the secretary of state, Cardinal Della Chiesa was brought into notable prominence throughout the Catholic hierarchy, but his position was not at all that of a cardinalistic rank. On the accession of Pope Pius X, Mr. Della Chiesa continued in the secretariat until December 18, 1907, when the Pope gave him a noted promotion to the position of Archbishop of the important See of Bologna. For seven years he administered the See of Bologna, with notable success until in May last, Pope Pius X named him among thirteen members of the hierarchy to receive the red hat.

NEW HAVEN DISSOLUTION.

Attorneys After Day of Conference Reach Agreement to Be Submitted to United States District Court.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—After a day of conference between Atty.-Gen. Gregory and attorneys of the New Haven Railroad, details of the agreed decree for the peaceful dissolution of that system virtually were determined upon and department officials were confident tonight it would be signed tomorrow and submitted to the United States District Court in New York within a few days.

The decree provides that the New Haven place the Boston and Maine Railroad in Connecticut and the Rhode Island trolley lines in the hands of receivers who shall dispose of them within a specified period. The New Haven's retention of the so-called Sound steamship lines is not touched upon, but the question of their retention is left to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

ESPOUSE CAUSE OF FREDERICKS.

RECRUITS CAUSE REJOICING AT HIS HEADQUARTERS.

Many Men Who Once Were for Johnson Announce Now They Will Support the Straight Republican Candidate—Captain's Managers Satisfied With Primary Results.

ST. FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 3.—The Fredericks headquarters are in daily receipt of letters, telegrams and telephone calls from many men who were prominent before the primary in the campaigns of the other Republican candidates, and who, for the most part, have identified four years ago with the fight to elect Gov. Johnson.

Yesterday Marshall Hale, who has always been active in behalf of clean men and clean measures within the Republican party, announced that he would support Capt. Fredericks for Governor. Ralph Easthorn, John Birmingham, Byron Maury and many others, who, before the primaries, espoused the candidacy of Balaban, Ralston or Keating, are now working shoulder to shoulder with the Fredericks committee for the election of Fredericks.

The Fredericks managers are more than satisfied with the result of the primary. They say that from present indications both the Progressive and Republican parties cast about 50 per cent. of their respective registrations for Governor. The total Republican strength at the primaries was a little more than twice that of the "Progressives." The fact that a large number of "Progressives" in the southern part of the State wrote in Fredericks' name on the "Progressive" ballot is regarded as a certain indication that party lines will be broken down in that section and that Capt. Fredericks will receive what will be an almost unanimous endorsement throughout Southern California.

Official.

REPUBLICANS FAR AHEAD IN SAN FRANCISCO CANVASS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Official canvass of the vote cast in the primary election in the city and county of San Francisco was concluded today by Registrar of Voters Zemansky, who has given out the following figures:

Governor—Republican, total vote, 19,894; Francis V. Keating, 30,324; John D. Fredericks, 11,287; William C. Ralston, 8,523; Charles M. Helshaw, 4,978; Hiram Johnson, 17,488; Democrat—Total vote, 11,845; John R. Curtin, 5,837; Sidney M. Van Wyck, 1,624; Fred H. Hall, 4,684; Edward White, 2,414; Charles King, 1,231; "Progressive"—Total vote, 18,573; Hiram Johnson, 17,172; Noble A. Richardson, 3,092; Socialist—Total vote, 339; Clinton P. Moore, 284; Lieutenant Governor—Republican, John M. Eshleman, 15,075; Hamilton A. Barker, 12,474; Albin W. Whinn, 6,840; Martin L. Ward, 5,417; Helen K. Williams, 5,151; Democrat—J. V. Snyder, 15,268; "Progressive"—John M. Eshleman, 18,369; Socialist—Norman W. Pendleton, 3,117.

THE FIGURES.

In figures, the results may be given as follows: Stand-pat Republican, and all of it is nominated over five progressive opponents by at least 100 majority and probably a majority over all.

Gov. McGovern, former La Follette, now recalcitrant to the Senator, nominated over Hancock, Phillips, running mate, by probably 100 and Morris, the La Follette candidate, is 15,000 behind Hancock.

The "Progressive" plan to unite the candidate to run for both the Governor and Republican, but John McGovern, State Railroad Commission head, has refused to make the Senator.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Temperatures Vary Greatly All Through the Country, the Eastern States Being Generally Hot.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 3.—Chicago's temperature sank to 59 last night, rising to 75 today with a strong northwest wind. The Ohio Valley cooled off to 74, but the southwest warmed up to 84 as an average. Eastern States continue hot and Western Canada reports as high as 88 and as low as 46 with in narrow range. Very little rain fell anywhere.

FALL OPENING

Our Annual Fall Opening

OFFERS an opportunity to discriminating men to obtain better tailoring, better values in fit, finish and the finer points of workmanship.

INCLUDES the new colorings in Brownish Green, the very latest novelty weaves—the Tartan Checks and Plaids in Green and Blue—the Snowflake Suitings—the newest thought in black and white effects—silk decorated Vests in stripes and smaller checks and a number of especially imported suitings in single suit patterns.

ELIMINATES for the present the because Brauer has a $100,000.00 stock of woolsens, imported and domestic, purchased at the old figures, and these will be sold at our customary low prices. We will not raise the cost of our suits until we absolutely have to. We believe we are one of the minority.

SPECIALIZES $20.00 suits to order and $25.00 suits-to-order, moderately priced suits that bear the stamp of Brauer excellence, and that will bring into your own experience the full meed of Brauer Satisfaction.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

All New Yorkers Wanted.

The New York State Society will hold a picnic in the Yosemite Grove Administration Day. Several speakers are scheduled to appear. All residents and former residents of the Empire State are invited to attend.

State Society Reception.

The Arkansas Society will hold a reception in the Federation Hall tomorrow night, and the Wisconsin Society on Monday night. Both offer entertaining programs of refreshments and dancing, and each is anxious that all former residents of the old home state shall be there.

From Paris to London.

Former Senator Clark, copper magnate and president of the Salt Lake Railroad, will abandon his palatial home near Paris this week, and with his wife and daughter, will take up residence in London, according to a cablegram received yesterday at his office here. The Clark home is twenty-five miles southeast of Paris.

Leaves Half Million Dollars.

Jacob Frankenstein, former Councilman, left an estate estimated to be worth more than $500,000. The will was written September 2, 1894. He left the estate to his wife, who has since died, providing that in the event of her death it should go to his children in equal shares. The children are David D. Frankenstein, Mrs. Nellie Edwards and Jennie F. Hines.

New Valley Town.

Seville is the latest accession to the bright galaxy of San Joaquin Valley towns. It is on the Minkler southern branch of the Santa Fe, between Exeter and Visalia, in a fine foothill fruit country. Plans for building a $5000 station are being made by the Santa Fe. A packing-house is also to be built, and lumber for a number of stores is already on the ground.

Improvement.

The Federated Improvement Association met last night at No. 547 South Broadway, at which a number of committees, appointed to investigate the progress of improvement work in various parts of the city, reported to the association.

New Railroad Agency.

Because of increasing business the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railway opened a general agency for Southern California yesterday in room 311 Grimes building. The office is in charge of J. F. Wagner as commercial agent, while G. H. Roberts will cover Southern California as solicitor. The agency will maintain a liaison through freight service between here and Kansas City in connection with the Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific, and is contemplating the establishment of through passenger service for 1915.

Safety Classes Hearing.

Word was received yesterday by Secretary Zeehandelaar of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association that the State Industrial Accident Commission will hold a hearing in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bulfinch building the first inst., beginning at 2 p.m., to hear objections and suggestions of Southern California employers on the rules proposed for the carrying into effect of the safety-appliance clause of the Workmen's Compensation Act. The hearing was asked by the association so that Southern California employers might have an opportunity to acquaint the commission with their views on the subject.

DIVORCE ACTION STIRS REDLANDS.

Grounds of complaint kept secret by attorneys for woman.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 3.—Intimations of forthcoming sensations are revealed in the filing of a suit for divorce here today for Emma D. Palmer against Gregory Palmer, well-known sportsman and husband of Redlands. Attorneys Edgar D. Pratt and Halsey W. Allen, who filed papers, refuse to divulge any details of the suit or conditions which gave rise to the action. It is alleged that the grounds for the divorce are cruelty.

The announcement of the troubles of the well-known couple, which will probably end in legal separation, will stir all Redlands, for both parties and defendant are prominent in social and club circles. Mrs. Palmer is the daughter of A. C. Denman, Sr. They have no children. It is understood that she will demand a property settlement amounting to one-half of an estate valued at close to $100,000. Palmer is a large orange shipper and somewhat of a golf player.

Employers Take Steps to Unite.

Merchants and Manufacturers Prepare to Meet All Likely Trouble.

By Direct Wire—Exclusive Dispatch.] FRESNO, Sept. 3.—A movement that was quietly launched in Fresno the first of the week took on definite form tonight, when at the Hotel Hughes a banquet was held and temporary organization of the Fresno Employers' Association, a branch of the National Merchants, Manufacturers and Employers' Association, took place.

The banquet tonight was attended by many Fresno merchants, who look with favor upon the organization to uphold the interests of the employers. Among the out-of-town speakers at the banquet were Seneca Beach, manager of the San Francisco Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association; W. C. Francis, manager of the Employers' Association of Portland and the Pacific Coast; John P. Irish, secretary of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce; W. T. Sillick, representing the National Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of New York, and H. C. Brokaw of Stockton.

PURCHASING AGENT.

Orange County Institutes New Department and Gives Position to Fullerton Man.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 2.—Orange County's Board of Supervisors has instituted a purchasing department and has named John S. Perry of Fullerton as the county's purchasing agent. Perry started to work today with a salary of $125 a month. The supervisors believe that Perry can save the county many times over for the county by judicious buying.

INJURY TO BRAIN.

Motorcycle Officer Roy Davenport is in the hospital with concussion of the brain. While riding on North Main street he collided with an automobile driven by C. W. Fox. Fox cut a corner and was hit by the motorcycle. Davenport is badly bruised, and the injury to his head is severe.

Within the next four months several concrete bridges will be built in this county. Bridge construction is practically all of a permanent nature. Bids for bridges across San Juan Creek and Anaheim Bay and for one in Sierrita Canyon are to be opened on September 15. A contract will probably be let next week for a bridge across the Santa Ana River near Olive. Plans are being drawn for a bridge across the Trabuco Creek near San Juan Capistrano.

CONTENDING PARTIES NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBORS.

Four Principal Political Affiliations Assigned Adjoining Rooms in Courthouse for Assemblies of County Committees Next Tuesday to Elect Chairmen—Important Question Arises.

REPUBLICANS, Democrats, "Progressives" and Socialists have been assigned adjoining rooms on the third floor of the Courthouse for next Tuesday, when their county committees will assemble to elect chairmen, other officers and to adopt platforms and transact other business according to the rules laid down in the primary law.

On the fourth floor, above the hub of the four parties, the Prohibition County Committee will assemble in extra dry session. The assignment of quarters is as follows: Room 35, Democrats; 36, Republicans; 37, Socialists; 38, "Progressives"; 40, Prohibitionists. The county committees are instructed to mark well the room numbers so no one will get into the wrong party.

Following the assignment came a warning from the Board of Supervisors that no littering of the floors will be tolerated. Supervisors who have vacated their courtrooms for the convenience of the five political parties are anxious that the rooms be kept in order. A general mobilization order was issued by various county chairmen.

The largest convention hall has been assigned to the Republicans as their committee is the largest. Also, it is likely to be the chief scene of conflict, for the committees are divided over two questions: The election of a chairman and the matter of inducing a Republican ticket of candidates for non-partisan offices.

The chairmanship lies between W. M. Brown, Mayor H. Flint and Fred J. Spring, at present the county chairman. For secretary there is a contest between Jack Wright, secretary of the Prohibition Campaign Committee, and George C. Boswell, organizer for the Republican League.

Fredericks supporters on the county committee have raised the point that it would be detrimental to the interests of Capt. Fredericks for the county Republican organization to endorse candidates for non-partisan offices. In some instances two Republicans happen to aspire to the same non-partisan office; both have friends who are supporters of Capt. Fredericks for Governor, and it is urged that to endorse a Republican candidate would be to injure the head of the State ticket.

AMONG THE DEMOCRATS.
Six women were elected to the Democratic County Central Committee composed of forty-eight members, according to semi-official returns. In five Assembly districts the women were contested, and in one a committee-man was elected over a competitor by a single vote. In the Seventy-second Assembly District, Councilman Snowden led the ticket with a vote close to 800, a few ballots in excess of H. C. Hill, San Fernando; Mary E. Fay, William L. Moore.

Sixty-second—James Roach, Redondo; H. T. Wolfe, Venice; Louis Altes, Las Cienegas; Howard Carpenter, Inglewood.

Sixty-third—R. W. Hill, L. J. Numa, Albert M. Norton, Mrs. Carrie L. Taylor.

Sixty-fourth—James Oak, William M. Humphreys, Mrs. Anna A. Varcoe.

Sixty-fifth—Charles W. Kavanaugh, Omar P. Ryne.

Sixty-sixth—Ben F. Groves, Alfred Moore, Thomas L. Barlow.

Sixty-seventh—Frederick W. Shelby, Pasadena; Zachary T. Malaby, Pasadena.

Sixty-eighth—L. Hoyt Denny, Frank H. Oser.

Sixty-ninth—Walter F. Dunn, Monrovia; Thomas H. Kirk, South Pasadena; John C. Graves, Alhambra; Matthew Rickard, Lamanda Park.

Seventieth—M. E. Spicer, Long Beach; Lucella H. Boyer, Willowbrook; Edgar E. Davis, Long Beach; Joseph W. Lander, Norwalk.

Seventy-first—Charles J. Adair, Richard Quinn, Michael Duffy, San Pedro.

Seventy-second—H. H. Cotton, John W. Snowden, Arthur E. Dunning, John H. Steele.

Seventy-third—George H. Vacher, C. W. Menafes, Sanford Grant.

Seventy-fourth—Frank E. Gayhart, Carrie L. Clark, John H. Clancy.

Seventy-fifth—Timothy Spivey, Lulu W. Westpheling, J. J. Travers.

Quarter Century Comparison

How phenomenally this bank has grown since its establishment in 1889, evidencing public confidence in its methods and appreciation of its efficient service, is shown by the following comparisons:

From $29,000 capital to $1,800,000 capital, $1,100,000 surplus, and undivided profits of $767,916.21.

From three employees to one hundred and eighty employees and officers.

From no patrons, to more than Eighty-Eight Thousand individual depositors.

From no deposits to over Forty Million Dollars deposits.

The growth of this bank is further emphasized by its modern quarters. No financial institution in California has more completely equipped or more attractive banking rooms than the SECURITY.

The oldest and largest savings bank in the Southwest invites you to open either a Term Savings Account upon which 4% interest will be paid, or a Special Savings Account drawing 3% interest, which you can check against under certain regulations without presenting the pass-book.

WESTLAKE LODGE CONTRACT LET.

WORK TO BE BEGUN AT ONCE
ON HANDSOME NEW MASONIC BUILDING.

The immediate beginning of construction upon the handsome new lodge building projected by the Westlake Masonic Association for the corner of Eighth street and Burlington avenue was assured yesterday when the general contract for the work was awarded to the firm of Hunterberger & Reed. It is announced by the architect, Oliver P. Dennis and Henry Harwood Hewitt, that excavation for the foundations of the structure will be started next week. Bids are now being received for the minor contracts such as the heating and plumbing.

The new structure will be of brick construction and will have ground floor devoted to a restaurant and a ball room. The second floor will be given over entirely to lodge purposes. Provision is made for both a hall and banquet room in this part of the building. The finish and equipment, it is stated, will be unusually fine.

BODY STILL UNKNOWN.

Clues to Identity of Man Killed
Near El Monte Prove False—Condition of Injured.

So far the identity of a man killed early Tuesday morning at Bassett, near El Monte, supposedly in a gang fight of hikers, has not been established by the Sheriff's office. It was supposed he was a Philadelphia man, but investigation proved he was not.

Victor Elkins, picked up near the body in a serious condition, is at the County Hospital. Physicians state that he has a chance of recovery.

Ralph I. Smith, jailed as a suspect, who was also injured in the supposed melee, has also recovered.

Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is not to be a latent apprehension of distress. But this is quite overcome by the use of many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to soothe the nerves and to thus soothe the pressure reacting on the nerves, that the nervous system is not accompanied by those severe pains said to cause nausea, morning sickness and many local distresses.

Many people believe that those remedies which have stood the test of time, that have been put to every trial under the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in continual use since our grandmother's earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women gladly recommend.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle to read and write for a special book for expectant mothers. Address Bradford Regulator Co., 191 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

ONE of those beautiful, dreamy
bits of moonlight sentiment set to a melody that sets you drifting down the "Sea of Days Gone by," a tender love refrain as sweet as "Love's Old Sweet Song."

An idyll of the South with a melody that just flowed from the master pen of Egbert Van Alstyne, who has written more country-wide song hits than any writers of the present decade.

The quartettes on all the street corners will serenade the moon and stars with this natural born song for the masses.

THIRD TALK

In my previous talks I have dwelt at some length upon the Moral and Intellectual advantages of the Yale School. Today, I propose to show you the exceptional advantages provided at the Yale School for the boy's physical development and entertainment. All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy—a true saying, but nevertheless too true. How often do we hear parents discussing the troublesome question, "What shall we do with our boy out of school hours to keep him off the streets and out of bad company?" The Yale School has solved the problem by providing a variety of healthful amusements and a teacher always on the grounds to keep good order and "things moving." The teachers are all college athletes, trained by the most approved methods of recreation, and by their presence on the athletic field and their participation in the sports of the boys better results in the classroom and higher ideals are attained. There is a fine gymnasium equipped with a great variety of health-developing devices and shower baths. A Physical Director conducts systematic gymnastic classes and supervises the athletic coaching. An annual Gymnasium Exhibition is one of the features of the school, in which all of the boys take part. Two of the finest dirt tennis courts in the city are always at the disposal of the pupils and provision is made for basketball, indoor baseball and basketball playing. Football and Baseball are taught according to the latest methods and the school is always a credit to the institution. There is a cinder running track and the manager expects to construct this fall an Open Air Stadium. The school will be the only one in any school in Southern California. Throughout the various sports and games the boys and not merely a few "stars" take part and the benefit is derived by all the boys and not merely a few.

YALE SCHOOL

GYMNASIUM.

Management emphasizes the idea of "Exercise for Health" and "Baths for an Outing." The school has a Summer Camp with fine equipment at the popular beach, Balboa, and at various times during the year house parties of teachers and boys are taken down for an outing and hunting trip. A dancing class is organized during the winter months and social functions are held. The school is very fortunate in having as its Master a lady who loves boys and contributes much towards their entertainment and happiness. The Saturday night socials are looked forward to by the pupils with much pleasure as a reward of merit for a good week's work. The so-called "Tale Spirit" predominates throughout the institution and creates in the boys a love for their school and a tender to "the things" and "to never say die." The much-coveted Y. S. monogram is awarded to the members of the various teams and those who are the most proficient in the individual contests with the idea of inspiring upon the recipient's mind that it is the Emblem of the school and should be secretly cherished by him and always be an incentive to nobler and better deeds in generous rivalry. The school will open its tenth year on Sept. 15th and invites inspection. Visitors are welcome and information will be cheerfully given. Illustrated catalogue, giving courses of study, rates, etc., mailed upon application. Address:

Blunt and Homer Martin were reappointed as vice-principals of the Lincoln High School. Elizabeth Gleason, arts and crafts, in the same school.

Too Late.
REMEMORSEFUL ON WAY TO DEATH.
YOUTHFUL SLAYER SENTENCED SECOND TIME.

Stoically Calm in Courtroom Bandit Later Breaks Down and Expresses Desire to Warn Young Men Who Are Treading the Paths That Led to His Downfall.

"If I could only say some word that would be a warning to youths who have a tendency toward waywardness, if I could only let them see the dire results. I have a good father and mother. They must not be blamed for this. It was my fault. I did it. I only." Tears, tears of apparent remorse, stopped any further speech. It was Ralph Farley, alias John Bostick, young bandit, speaking, or rather sobbing, as he sat in the County Jail yesterday, following his sentence to death for the slaying of Horace E. Montague on a Southern Pacific train the night of December 1, last.

But two hours previously, as he sat in Judge Craig's court, again awaiting the death sentence, he was far from a remorseful young man. He sat as one disinterested in the whole proceeding, idly glancing at the judge, his mother and father, the attorneys and the crowd of morbid persons who were gathered in the courtroom. He apparently wished that the whole matter were over with, as if it was somewhat irritating to him at times.

As the court adjourned, "The people versus Farley," the youth arose from a seat beside his father, Judge Craig, and quickly advanced to a seat on the stand, where he was surrounded by a cordon of deputy sheriffs. He appeared unmoved. The sightseers gaped.

When asked by the court if he had anything to say his counsel arose and said:

"If Your Honor, please, I will request that the date for the execution of the sentence be placed at some date subsequent to Friday, November 27."

The object of the request was, if possible, to take advantage of the situation in case the people of the State of California abolish capital punishment by constitutional amendment at the November election.

Judge Craig then sentenced Farley to be hanged in San Quentin within not less than sixty days nor more than ninety days.

Farley sat unmoved externally beyond a quick, defiant flash of the eyes as death was pronounced. The crowd looked disappointed.

The prisoner was then taken to the County Jail. He will be taken tonight to remain until his execution.

RECEPTION TO STUDENTS.
A reception is to be given the teachers and speakers of the Sunday evening meetings in Astrological Hall, No. 519 Grosse building, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The object is to promote a closer acquaintance between these scientific public teachers, hoping thereby that a combined interest may be instituted for promulgating the truths and cosmic law principles for the people's benefit, in a more forceful and universal way, and that the underlying causes of the world's great unrest and destruction, including the devastating wars, may be uncovered, understood, better coped with and rationally remedied by this co-operation.

JOKE ON THIEF.
The glitser of the handle of a silver-backed pocket watch yesterday dispatched a burglar who was trying to enter the home of Miss Jennie Gould at No. 811 Golden avenue. Mrs. W. O. Clark, the door next door, saw the thief working at the window and taking up the comb leveled it at the man, at the same time giving a command to leave. Mistaking the comb for the barrel of a revolver, he hastily fled.

mel, informed her that Valentine had died.
During her intimate relations with Valentine, which she acknowledged in her papers, she was Miss Hattie C. Sellon. When Valentine dropped out of her life she married a Chicago railroad man. Several months ago, according to her attorney, John C. Miles, she came to California because of her health and sought a home in the foothills.

In answer to an advertisement she went to Altadena and was met by a Mrs. Valentine, whom she never thought of in connection with her old associate and was taken to a new home completely furnished. While going through this she happened to discover the picture of Valentine and inquiries revealed the fact that he was residing on the same grounds. Partly to get even, and further to satisfy herself of his identity, she took the place on a lease for a year.

When Valentine discovered who the tenant was he immediately telegraphed Chicago to stop the lease payments and to have the house put up for signature. He refused to allow her to remain in the house, on which he had made a deposit of $25, and for which she was to pay $100 a month. She stayed through the month.

The local promoter declares that in the past he has been hounded by Mrs. Bunting and that he had repaid her many times the amount of the note, through his attorney, Harry Dehm, he stated that it is merely an attempt to blackmail him. "The note has gone of limitations," said Dehm, "outside of any other phases of the situation."

Counter-attack on his part, and an additional suit by Mrs. Bunting are expected in a few days.

Post Toasties

They are perfect flakes—thin as paper—each flake the "sweet meat" of the choicest white corn grown in the Mississippi Valley.

This food comes to you fresh, in sanitary packages, sealed tight, and with an Inside Container to keep contents right.

POST TOASTIES have a dainty, corn flavour—unusual to common corn flakes—this due to skilful cooking and toasting, which imprisons the oven-fresh goodness and saves it for your breakfast or lunch—

TOASTIES are good hot or cold; served with cream and sugar—also fresh fruit in season. To get a special richness of flavour in this distinctively American dish, warm in open oven before serving. Heat unseals this dainty flavour for your appetite. A superb food—always appetizing!

The Cost of a Corporate Trusteeship

Some men think they cannot afford to give their estates the benefits of a corporate trusteeship, thinking that the expense is greater than when an individual is named as executor or trustee under will.

The fees allowed by law to Title Insurance and Trust Company are no greater than those allowed an individual and its charges are often less.

In the discharge of its trust the Company commits none of the costly errors often charged to individual executors. Your heirs will have distinct advantages if this Company is named as your executor. Will you look into this matter?

The government Bureau of War Risk Insurance began organization yesterday, but quoted no rates and received no requests. All cereals went up yesterday to the highest prices known in a number of years.
(Abroad.) The Bank of France has been removed to Bordeaux and it is stated the Paris Bourse will stay closed indefinitely. The last quotations made on the Bourse will be regarded as official. Berlin has decided to issue one and two-mark notes to satisfy the need for small change. The output of silver has been augmented.

A TOUCH OF NATURE.
Get a map of the world and look up South Park. Then drive by it some day when you are out for a spin. We doubt if Los Angeles and its suburbs hold a brighter spot.

MENTAL ARITHMETIC.
If the citrus fruit crop in California be worth $50,000,000 this year at home what would it be worth tomorrow if it could be at once delivered in the different capitals of Europe? If you see an army that wants to buy some fruit please send it around to Los Angeles.

DO YOU REMEMBER?
Did you ever live in the woods and make whistles when the first sap rose in the chestnut trees, the sycamore and the paw-paw bushes? Out here the trees are different, but if you are not too grown-up to be happy you can make a joyful sound by sitting a pumpkin vine up close to the top.

COMING ACROSS.
We are glad to see England reasonable about the American purchase of the German liners. Great Britain delicately suggests that certain differences can be adjusted diplomatically. Perhaps the English think it would be diplomatic to have the purchase money placed in escrow until after the war.

APPRECIATION.
Millions of Americans compelled to leave Paris in a cattle train were entirely convinced that France appreciates its soldiers. Over there the man who is going to fight for his country counts before anybody else in the world. Talking war in Paris is a good deal like shaking a bottle of champagne well before using.

HEAVENLY PROSPECT.
It would be pleasant to stand outside the golden gates and watch the little children troop in just for the fun of seeing how many toys would stick a wad of chewing gum behind the hinges. We can imagine it is enough to make Saint Peter forget where he is when he goes to unlock the gates at morning and gets the war on his finger.

THE GREAT ASSURANCE.
Jesus said: "In my Father's house are many mansions." Doesn't leave much room for further invention, does it? Rather convinces one that if we read the Bible into ourselves there wouldn't be much need of reading ourselves into it. Men will have to know a lot more than they do before they can begin to take the old book at its word, much less try to get beyond it.

MAKING THEIR TIME.
Many persons on this side are rather puzzled by the apparent slowness of the English navy. Perhaps the Britons prefer blowing up the ships of the enemy to furnishing material for mine explosions. Of course if they had a few Richmond Pearson Hobsons in their navy a mine more or less would make no difference whatever. Besides, the mines would really work, and the Hobsons would not be left to turn prohibitionists or go to Parliament.

ON THE WING.
Everybody who lives in things, yet nothing in life. John Burroughs has written a wonderful little essay bespeaking a vast faith in that vitality of unknown source and kind which passes from star to star, planet to planet, sun to sun and moon to moon or blazes at once through a thousand constellations. If this is pantheism the good old naturalist-poet has expressed it with an assurance so steadfast that it is a tremendous solace to the heart of endless questionings.

CLOSING OF THE SUEZ CANAL.
If any foreign power should assume that the exigencies of war warranted it in violating the neutrality of the Panama Canal and should insist, in spite of the prohibition forbidding the passage through that waterway of ships of war, in attempting to use it, the action of the United States in providing military protection for the canal will be fully justified.
Possible naval conflicts in the Mediterranean may put the Suez Canal out of business for a time. In such event the only way for European vessels to reach the Antipodean colonies, the South Sea Islands, the eastern coast of Asia and the west coast of South America would be by journeying around Cape Horn or the Cape of Good Hope or by passing through the Panama Canal.
The naval parade of the nations at the formal opening of the canal five months hence will probably be abandoned.

OVERSEAS—THE SITUATION TO DATE.
The situation was still unchanged yesterday and last night. No great victory was reported by either capital and they have the means at their disposal to inform the rest of the world.
Between the lines of a Paris news report one reads that Gen. Joffre has retired in order to meet the enemy under the guns of the fortifications of Paris, where he expects the decisive battle to be fought. An associate editor of the Army and Navy Journal, who has been analyzing the war dispatches for the readers of The Times, stated it as his belief last night that the Germans had checked the Russian advance on the eastern border. If this is true the German armies in the west (namely, France) may be presumed to have freer hand to deal with the business that lies nearest them. With an unbroken stream of refugees out of Paris en route to Orleans and Bordeaux, where President Poincaré and the other officers of the French government have arrived; with military passes exacted to get in and out of Paris; with the allies maintaining absolute silence as to the tide of battle, the reviewer at this distance is entitled to believe that the critical hour of at least the first phase of the great war has arrived. A little while must tell whether or not the flight from Paris is headless, whether the Kaiser's invasion of France was folly.

RAYS OF SUNSHINE.
That all the lesser internal strifes of Europe will be settled by this one great war seems to be the one gleam of comfort so far on the horizon. Minor concessions, meaning so much to those to whom they are made, are the order of the day.
The Irish question will be finally and happily settled for England. Ulster will offer no more opposition to home rule after this splendid evidence of Nationalist loyalty in the face of danger. That the Nationalists were England's enemies and but sought an opportunity to hand her bodily over to Germany has been an oft-uttered indictment from the Ulsterites. John Redmond's instant and wonderful speech in the House of Commons, even before England was drawn into the war, won the prompt and sincere appreciation of all parties. Irish home rule as a controversy has been wiped off the slate.
Then, too, according to German Ambassador Bernstorff, Russia has agreed to give Poland autonomy in exchange for her cooperation at this time. Poland's prompt cooperation is evidence that the offer has been gleefully accepted. Thus Russia removes another internal irritant from her domestic woes.

Dispatches likewise indicate that a wider concession of suffrage is to be granted to Russians of all classes as a result of bargaining at the outset of the war. This is a tremendous step forward for Russian autonomy and may well have restored the Czar's popularity in the empire.
French anti-militarists, who have been such a serious thorn in the side of France for the past decade, can also be relied upon to cease from troubling, for any and all reverses that come to fair France in this disastrous war will be laid at their doors.
Syndicalism, the menace of Europe, will receive its death blow. When the war has ceased the nations will be wholly dependent upon private enterprise to revive their broken industries; there will be no money for the nationalization of industries forthcoming from any of the governments; and labor will turn with gratitude to the generals of commerce and be grateful enough to enlist in the merchant army as best they may.

Even the impossible serious embarrassments with which a government was ever faced, declared a cessation of hostilities and offered their organization, buildings, services and funds for the use of the nation.
SOCIALISM AND WAR.
Marx and Frudhomme and Belford preach hostility to war, and the adopted creed of Socialism denounces war and "the increasing burden of armaments."
The doctrines of Socialism in this respect resemble one of those gaudy red and white striped umbrellas which the proprietors of umbrella stores used to hang in front of their shops as an advertisement. They always took the umbrella in when it rained.
One hundred and ten of the 387 members of the German Reichstag and 19 of the 692 members of the French Chamber of Deputies are Socialists, yet they all voted unanimously and enthusiastically for war to "increase the burden of armament."
They brought the umbrella in out of the rain. Man is surely "a fighting animal."

GIANT OF THE CHURCH.
With the death of Bishop Robert McIntyre, American Methodism has lost one of its most rugged champions and the bishopric a tower of strength. A giant of Christianity has fallen—a bulwark of the Faith. A mighty oak, an expression truly used to typify the life of a great and good man, in a special way symbolizes the life of Bishop McIntyre. As a lad he buffeted the world alone, in a land over seas from his birth, his strong Scotch character supporting him in every emergency. When as a young man he espoused the cause of the Cross he displayed the trait that made him great. He laid his hand to one of the most strenuous of the common callings of life, and as a bricklayer built for himself a monument that time cannot destroy. He literally paved the way to the greatest pulpits in the church of his choice and finched at no difficulty.
Bishop McIntyre was not a "mixer," in the common acceptance of the term. He was distinctly and ever a student. An extravagant love of nature led him to seek its solitude, where the companionship of the trees and rocks and mountains was his joy and inspiration.
Walking erect with vigorous stride, he threaded his way in and out the rural byways worshipping with the birds and bees and flowers, and the poetry of the wondrous things in creation filled his soul with the music of eloquence.
He was much alone—this great-souled man. On the busy streets of the city thousands passed by. He was often with them, but not of them. As a book he studied in rapid succession, those that warmed about him, and his greatest delight was the weaving of the web of interest into a fabric of joy and encouragement for those who sat enthralled in his presence. He was ever on the upper trail—an optimist of the optimists. He has left behind him a peroration of sunshine that will continue to illumine his memory and cheer the way of those who knew him.

His loved California, where he hoped to spend the closing days of his helpful life; the State where perennial summer typifies the leading trait of his being was fame in that his dust will lie beneath her sun-kissed skies till time shall end.

OUR DUTY AND OUR OPPORTUNITY.
In 1912 the value of the imports of the United States was $1,653,264,394. Of this amount $272,940,708 worth came from Great Britain, $188,094,174 from Germany and Austria, and $160,116,894 from France and The Netherlands—in all $621,151,776 worth. It is an exceedingly conservative estimate to say that for the coming year the appliances and looms and furnaces of these countries will not be able to supply more than one-half of their former exportation, and that the warring nations will require from us at least $300,000,000 worth of goods that they formerly made at home.
It is up to us to make for home use and for exportation to South America and Europe at least $600,000,000 more of commodities than we made last year. California's share of this will be $15,000,000 worth.

Of European imports California consumed last year of cotton goods $3,250,000 worth, of woolen goods $750,000 worth, of paper goods $650,000 worth, of leather goods $800,000 worth, of hats $600,000 worth and of manufactures of copper $1,800,000 worth. We have in this State an abundant supply of the raw material from which these articles are made, and we can make them here as cheaply and as well as they can be made in any other part of the country. Cotton we have from Imperial Valley, wool from our sheep farms, paper pulp from our forests, hides from our cattle ranges, and copper from our mines.

For the establishment of manufactures of textile fabrics and other articles Los Angeles presents exceptional inducements. We have 30,000 horse power of electrical energy in the Owens River aqueduct. We have a vast supply of cheap fuel oil and natural gas from the Kern county fields, and we will soon have cheap bituminous and anthracite coal brought here by sea from Alaska.

Our climate is an asset which we have been accustomed to sell only to tourists, but it has an economic value as well. The air is so pure and dry that it will set colors in cloth better than any artificially created, and it will season lumber in half the time required in places where there is a copious summer rainfall. The worker can labor here in the open air more days in the year than in any other part of the land. His outlay for fuel between November and April and the outlay for heating the buildings in which he works is less than one-third of the sum required for such purposes in New York or Chicago. He can purchase fresh fruits and vegetables during twice as many months of the year as in the East, and he can rent a comfortable and pretty cottage for half of what he would pay for rooms in a crowded and squalid tenement house in an Atlantic city.

These advantages are such as to enable manufacturers in Los Angeles to hold the Pacific market for their wares against the more poorly-paid factory and foundry laborers of the East. The European war will now enable the eastern manufacturers to keep at home six hundred millions of dollars per annum that hitherto has been sent to Europe for goods. The dire needs of Europe call upon America for relief, and Europe's extremity is America's opportunity. We are guiltless of having taken lot or part in the anxiety about the needs or producing the extremity of our brethren abroad. But we would do less than our duty to them if we failed to relieve their needs, and less than our duty to ourselves if we failed to take legitimate and honest advantage of the opportunity that events have thrust upon us.

Let our spindles hum and our furnaces flame, and the diapason of well-paid labor be sounded upon the anvils of the land, and

And let the welcoming arms of the nation be outstretched to the war-weary Teutons and Gauls and the defeated Belgians and the natives of that England from whence we draw our language, our laws, our literature, our love of freedom and our scorn of danger. There will be millions of men and women who, when the war is over, will seek another land in which to recuperate their broken fortunes. Let them find peace and shelter and prosperity here.

WHADE BEEF.
Any man who adds a new item to our food resources must rank high as a public benefactor. We expect this earth has still many edible products of which we know nothing, because no venturesome person has had the hardihood to try them out. It has been well said by a brave man to first eat an oyster—and see what his deed of daring has done for the whole world!

A Norwegian sea captain has just performed a philanthropic act in pointing out a new meat supply, so far not utilized by the consumer or even brought before his notice. Whales for their oil and their bones have been slain by the hundreds, the rest of this huge mammal having been dumped into the ocean as valueless. Now we learn that from ninety tons up of good meat, not only wholesome but palatable, has been foolishly wasted with every slaughtered whale.

Ninety tons of beefsteak will go quite a way in feeding hungry mouths. With land beef at 30 cents a pound, a cold storage supply of sea beef ought to cut some figure, as well as some steaks, in reducing butcher bills.
Dumping one good hundred-ton-whale carcass on the Los Angeles market—when the price of beef nose to altitudinous may yet be a new method for coming to the relief of the consumer. One whale would supply a meat dinner for 6000 families; sold as cheap as 10 cents a pound the carcass would be worth $1800. When steers have become so valuable that their owners have to lock them up in safe deposits over night while farming may become a profitable new industry.

PEACE AT HOME.
WALT MASON IN "THE TIMES."

We who infest this favored land should happy be, and doubly grateful; we need not, at some chief's command, engage in warfare, grim and hateful. No cannons thunder on our shores, we see no fierce, bloodthirsty faces, but we can do our daily chores, and not be shot in fifteen places. No reckless soldiers fire our barns, no tyrant o'er the wrecked refugees, and says he doesn't care three dollars, when we protest with tear-wet voices. Oh, everywhere is balmy peace, in this fair land, beloved of heaven, and man, who uses elbow grease, may earn three bucks, or maybe seven. Sleep has for us its pristine charms; we go to roost, our prayers once spoken; no danger here of night alarms; we wake at morn, our legs unbroken. We feed old Dobbin in his stall, we milk the cow and herd the pullets; we are not backed against a wall and then shot full of rusty bullets. So let us thank our divers gods, that we may live our lives serenely, work out our plans, increase our wads, and die in bed, in manner calmly.

RUSSIAN WAR STRENGTH.

BY P. A. DEMENS, JUNIOR CAPTAIN OF THE RUSSIAN GUARD (RETIRED).
With the progress of the Russian invasion of Germany and Austria, the interest in the eastern theater of war will necessarily grow and the real strength and condition of the Russian army will attract the attention of the American reader. Having carefully studied all the information given by our press on the subject, I found many misconceptions and contradictory statements and will try to give a correct version, based partly upon my personal knowledge and partly upon the latest official documents and statistics. I am a retired officer of the Russian Guard and during my recent visits to Russia I had an excellent chance to observe the present condition of her armed forces.

Russia has a compulsory military service and the contingent of recruits is fixed every year by an imperial ukase, confirmed by the Duma. Until the Balkan war that year's contingent consisted for many years of 450,000 men; since the war, of 550,000. All young men who reach 20 years of age during the year are called to draw lots. The time of service is twenty-two years, three of which in infantry and four in cavalry and all other special branches are passed in actual service, nine following in first reserve and the remaining years in second reserve. Both these reserves are called out at fixed periods for six weeks of actual service to keep them instructed in all changes of armament and tactics.

The natural loss to the army in service by permanent sickness, accidents and death is considered to be fully covered by the extra volunteer re-enlistments, and, figuring the term of actual service on the average of three and a half years, the peace strength of the Russian army must have been not less than 1,600,000 men. Of these about 50,000 are in the navy and about 200,000 in local immovable troops, garrison regiments, fortress artillery, convoy and guard commands, etc. It must be borne in mind that in many of the newly-acquired outlying districts in Asiatic Russia and along the whole of the Asiatic border certain armed forces must be kept permanently to insure order. Thus the movable armies in time of peace must contain about 1,350,000 men. In case of war about eighteen yearly contingents of 450,000 men each, diminished during their reserve terms by natural losses by probably 20 to 25 per cent, are subject to call. Therefore Russia can mobilize not less than 6,000,000 trained men.

The Russian army is organized in army corps of a fixed strength. An infantry regiment consists of four battalions of four companies of 250 men each and of a quick-firing gun detachment. Two regiments constitute a brigade, two brigades a division, two divisions an army corps. Each corps has its own cavalry division of six regiments consisting of six squadrons of 150 men each. In each cavalry division there are three brigades of two regiments of dragons, two of uhlans and two of husars. The field artillery of each army corps consists of fourteen batteries of eight guns each, and of three batteries of horse artillery of six guns each. Thus an army corps has 130 guns, or a little more than three guns to every 1000 men, as its strength is about 45,000 bayonets and sabers. Each army corps has a battalion of engineers, two companies of pontooners, its own railroad, telegraph, automobile and aviation hospital and other detachments. There are forty army corps of the line, one of the guards and one of the grenadiers—the latter consisting of three divisions of infantry and two divisions of cavalry each. There are three divisions of the guards, 65,000 each. Five of these corps are stationed in Siberia, three in Turkestan, three in Caucasus, one in Finland, the others in European Russia. Besides these forty-two army corps, representing a war strength of some 1,800,000 men, there are ten divisions, or forty regiments, of Russian rifles and ten divisions of Siberian rifles, or over 300,000 men, who are detached and in time of war are supposed to constitute the advance guards of the armies and are specially trained and fitted for such service. Every division of infantry, cavalry and artillery has a reserve regiment, which in time of war is developed into a full division of four regiments and can be used either separately or to replace the losses of the active division. Theoretically, these reserve divisions must follow closely their active ones and constitute their first reserve battle line.

Besides these regular forces there are various special ones, the chief among them the Cossacks, the Don, of the Caucasus, of Kuban, of Ural, of Orenburg, of Western and Eastern Siberia, of Ussuri. They are organized in regiments of six sotnias (hundred) each, two regiments constituting a brigade and three brigades a division. They have their own horse artillery, three batteries of six guns each to a division. Their combined war strength is about 300,000 horsemen, and I was told that lately they have been given the best modern armaments and taught regular cavalry tactics.

During my last trip to St. Petersburg I was invited to attend a reunion of retired officers of the regiment I served in, the 1st division of the Guards. I met many old comrades, generals commanding army corps, divisions, brigades, also some younger ones, colonels commanding regiments of the line, who came from various parts of the empire to attend that reunion. We visited the barracks, the magazines and ammunition houses, in fact, spent many days together and inspected the regiment in all its parts very closely. We found on hand an excellent train of camp wagons and kitchens, minus the horses, and a full equipment of clothing, boots, armament and ammunition for full war strength. I was assured the whole army was equally prepared, ready at a moment's notice to receive their quota of reservists.

One point, however, was obvious—all these old soldiers held very decided and very pessimistic views upon the subject of the personnel of the highest commands in the army. Great generals do not develop in peace times, and the Japanese-Russian war did only one thing—proved that those in command during it were unfit. Of the only three generals who displayed real military talents, two—Kondratenko in Port Arthur and Koller in Liao-Yang—were killed, the third Zverevsky died of wounds shortly after the war. The present Russian army is surely better armed, drilled and provided for than formerly—yet it can return to its old glory only if the war will develop new and worthy leaders.

Pen Points: By the Staff

Nothing about the monkey hunter at first page these days.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to wear Congress gaiters?

Down South the tang is already in the air and they are talking of "possum 'n' 'nims" mona.

The Democrats of Kansas have endorsed prohibition. As Brother Jasper once put it, "the sun do move."

Walking in bathing suits is to be stopped at Santa Monica. Everybody must be clothed in their right mind.

"Firing is now reported off the coast of Norway." Probably some Norway rat is eating the sulphur on the matches.

When prices fall the last man in the world to hear of it is your grocer, but he can smell an advance a block away.

The high cost of living is likely to strike the diet of crow that is waiting "Holy N" Johnson and his political highlanders.

Friends of President Wilson assert that he will be a candidate for renomination in 1916. Do you hear that, Champ Clark?

If Fred Hall and John Curtin were primers we would suggest that they "teach" that Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

A Redlands pastor has been exonerated of the charge of stealing a hat. The long suit of the average pastor is passing the hat.

Los Angeles will entertain the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association and there is not a bit of damaged goods in the entire outfit.

"Charge," cried the Belgian King. And the tailor to His Majesty, who was making a new uniform for the King, followed orders.

In the recent Missouri primary election there were but $614 Bull Moose votes cast. It seems that the voters there don't care to be shown.

The spectacle of farmers holding their wheat for higher prices is magnificent, and it is also sheep. And it can be both if you look it over carefully.

Liberia has proclaimed her neutrality. Kaiser William will be compelled to move on without that help. Wonder if the allies have heard about it?

Just in order to preserve the reputation of Mexico the Arrieta brothers have started another revolution in Durango. "This is the life" below the line.

Why is it that nine out of every ten men who get into trouble in this town are referred to as "wealthy club men"? Is it to knock the real club men?

And the twenty-eighth verse of the fifteenth chapter of Maccabees will be recalled in the present awful casualties of the war: "Nicanor lay dead in his harness."

Forty-eight questions and propositions will be submitted to the voters of California at the coming election. The unusual ballots will make admirable bed quilts.

In the recent South Carolina Democratic primaries Gov. Cole Blaise was defeated in his aspirations to be nominated for the United States Senate. So there is a God in Israel, after all.

The Methodist conference, in which the local pastors are interested, will meet this month and every church will want a "big man." Don't say there is no politics in a Methodist conference.

The bill of Senator Smoot authorizing the purchase of $3,000,000 worth of silver by the government looks as if the Senator expected to make the race for re-election from Colorado the next time.

The State conventions to be held in Sacramento September 15 will be denatured ones and as expensive as the old-fashioned ones. When politics returns to its normal state they will be kicked out.

The American Society for the Encouragement of Thrift would make a ten struts if it could contrive some way by which we could do without flour and sugar. It is not enough to recommend that we spend no money recklessly.

Ambassador Herrick has refused to leave Paris and will stick to his post during the war and the possible investment of the French capital. An Ohio politician who has defied the Anti-Saloon League has no fear of results in the present European war.

An ability to see correctly some of the things about us is one of the needs of the hour. When Solomon was about to judge his people and was asked what gift he most desired he prayed that he might be given an understanding heart. The aspiration of that wise man ought to be on the lips of us all.

BLAZING THE TRAIL.
[Dedicated to Mrs. Helen K. Williams, Republican Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor.]
The one who has courage to forge on ahead, in the face of the jeers of the world, and blaze out the trail for the others to tread, When the banner of victory's unfurled, Will find on the top of the annals of fame A name they have heard since their birth. They're the heroes of silence, and unmentioned grace, Eternity only can measure their worth. Of fiber, unlike the great, vast multitudes, A purpose, persisting and grand, That uproots or ignores all the thorns in the way And bright among stars sure to stand! MRS. DICK, SILVER, No. 2921 East First street.

FRIDAY MORNING.

CAST PEARLS OF FRIENDSHIP

Japanese-American Banquet to Notoed Oriental.

Says Country Owes Its Modern Life to America.

Remarkable Evening Filled With Interest.

It was sixty years ago that Commodore Perry made a call at the port of Uraga, yet more than 50 years ago Japanese vessels made five calls on ports of Mexico, thus opening negotiations with the American consular at the dawn of its mission on the bay.
This information vouchsafed last night by Prof. Shikata Shiga was the kernel of his unusual address at the banquet tendered him by the Japanese-American Fraternity of 100 members at Christopher's.

A remark made by many particularists, Prof. Shiga in the center figure in an evening of exceptional interest. On his way to Washington to attend the International Congress of Americanists, this brilliant Japanese scholar is being elaborately entertained in many American cities and the local Japanese-American Fraternity outdid itself in the heartiness of his reception.

Being a university man above everything, Prof. Shiga is essentially thorough. In the history of American-Japanese relations he is almost a technician. In his remarks last night he covered a vast field of individual effort, actually referring to the names of every American who had taken a prominent part in bringing Japan under the conviction of western civilization in sixty years. These he divided into ten classes, beginning with the spiritual and educational and concluding with the social and with those of every American who had taken account of unusual expressions of sympathy and proofs of friendship. He showed the special efforts of persons who went to the United States to study as students for this work. The Americans, above all nations, have been our teachers and instructors. Prof. Shiga: "And we owe them a prodigious debt of gratitude for what we are today."

Seldom is the relation of reminiscences made so rich as it was by Col. Charles O. Sheppard, Consul-General to Japan from 1881 to 1885. Some of his droll remarks had the salve of spontaneous childhood. For example, he recalled that as a fact that Okuma is the only one of many leading Japanese statesmen of thirty years ago who is still alive, the Prime Minister. Some one in the audience interposed that the man who was Minister of Education from 1881 to 1889 is still on the job. "Is he still alive?" Col. Sheppard asked; and then somewhat querulously he demanded, "What for?"

A popular fallacy was ruthlessly shattered by Col. Sheppard in the recital of his remarks. "Most people identify the Harikoban with Japanese tradition, but Col. Sheppard was in at the birth of this quaint and new Japanese tradition. The first one was made by an English missionary named Gobel, who never had it in his mind to leave Japan. He died in 1889 is still on the job. "Is he still alive?" Col. Sheppard asked; and then somewhat querulously he demanded, "What for?"

Dr. C. C. Pierce, president of the local Fraternity, as a counterpoint to an office purely gratuitous, since the tests are only taken for granted, and in water, at a dinner of the Fraternity, who nor tobacco at any of the Fraternity's dinners, and they are attracted to the women than men.
Dr. C. C. Pierce, president of the local Fraternity, as a counterpoint to an office purely gratuitous, since the tests are only taken for granted, and in water, at a dinner of the Fraternity, who nor tobacco at any of the Fraternity's dinners, and they are attracted to the women than men.

The State conventions to be held in Sacramento September 15 will be denatured ones and as expensive as the old-fashioned ones. When politics returns to its normal state they will be kicked out.

KEEP IN OLDEN TIMES.
Was Not So Young and Tender As It Might Have Been, and Fought Some More Popular.
[Yale Review:] When the increased cost of living is discussed today the complaint usually begins by quoting the price of rib roast or sirloin steak. In 1740 a pound of beef cost 12 cents at 12 cents a pound, but from 1800 down to a very late period meat was sold at a price of a few cents a pound, and nearly every body a pig and a cow and all this was stock was permitted to roam at will through the streets. Pigs were tethered in the back yards of private residences, and the carcass hung from the branches of a convenient apple tree. The butcher brought what cattle he could, and at times the market was excellent in quality, but more often the carcass was that of a cow that had longer given milk, or of a steer whose longer work under the yoke was no longer efficient; and invariably a vigorous pounding with the potato masher did for the meat what was right for double the price.
[ST Francis Filkins notes a sale of twenty pounds of beef life for 75 cents, which would be a price of a pound, cheap enough for "bife," he it ever so "boul."

Making It Possible.
[Atlanta Georgian:] Judge Handman, when leader of the opposition in the New Brunswick Legislature, representing the country of Woodville, was once delivering a vigorous message in the House against some measure of the government, then led by Mr. Blair.
"That my constituents in West-woodville hear me now!" exclaimed the opposition leader in vigorous tones.
Mr. Blair motioned to an attendant, "Open the windows," he said.

CAST PEARLS OF FRIENDSHIP.

Japanese-American Banquet to Noted Oriental.

Says Country Owes Its Modern Life to America.

Remarkable Evening Filled With Interest.

It was sixty years ago that Commodore Perry made a call at the port of Uraga, yet more than 500 years ago Japanese vessels made the call as ports of Mexico, thus opening negotiations with the American continent at the dawn of its miraculous life.

This information vouchsafed last night by Prof. Shiketsu Shiga was the kernel of his unusual address at the banquet tendered him by the Japanese-American Fraternity of 100 members at Christopher's.

A remarkable man in many particulars, Prof. Shiga was the central figure in an evening of exceptional interest. On his way to Washington to attend the International Congress of Americanists, this brilliant Japanese scholar is being elaborately entertained in many American cities and towns.

Prof. Shiga is essentially thorough. In the history of American-Japanese relations he is almost a technician. In his remarks last night he covered a vast field of individual effort actually referring to the names of the American who had taken a prominent part in bringing Japan under the conviction of western civilization in sixty years. These he divided into two classes, beginning with the spiritual and educational and concluding with the social and with those deserving of special mention on account of unusual expressions of sympathy and proofs of friendship. He showed how every feature of modern life in Japan has been influenced by American intelligence and training through the special efforts of persons who went to the United States to Japan as students for this work.

"The Americans," he said, "have been our guides and instructors." "and we owe them a prodigious debt of gratitude for what we are today."

Prof. Shiga's relation of reminiscences made so rich as it was by Col. Charles O. Sheppard, Consul-General to Japan, who in 1875, one of his droll remarks had the words of spontaneous childhood. For instance, Col. Sheppard spoke of the fact that Okuma is the only one of many leading Japanese statesmen of many years ago who is still alive, the last year, when several members of the present Board of Education were under fire, Supt. John H. Francis and his educational policies were really the issue before the voters. It was with this understanding that a very large number of our citizens voted for the present board.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

How Long, O Lord, How Long?
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your articles in regard to Mr. Joseph Scott of the Board of Education have been highly appreciated by your numerous readers, including the undersigned. It is the recollection of the writer that a year ago, when several members of the present Board of Education were under fire, Supt. John H. Francis and his educational policies were really the issue before the voters. It was with this understanding that a very large number of our citizens voted for the present board.

Now three members of the board are elected, and all they have done is to thwart the will of the majority of the board, who have duly and legally elected Mr. Francis as Superintendent. The failure of the Board of Education in 1881 to observe that well-established principle of American government that the majority should rule, has been a calamity. The failure of a large number of Americans in 1881 to observe that well-established principle of American government that the majority should rule, has been a calamity. The failure of a large number of Americans in 1881 to observe that well-established principle of American government that the majority should rule, has been a calamity.

A World War Foretold.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Being much interested in technical research and cognate matters, as most progressive people are nowadays, may I draw the attention of your readers to some extracts from communications received by the late Dr. Hodgson from the spirit side of life, through the mediumship of Mrs. Piper, which Miss Lillian Whiting of Boston, the well-known authoress, sends to London Light and of which the following is a portion relating to the war?
"We act continually on earth in ways not describable to the human mind. The whole earthly world is acted upon by some of our members, and at times the whole band is at work developing the mind of man. Never since the days of Melchisedec has the earthly world been so susceptible to the influence of spirit. It will in the next century be astonishingly perceptible to the minds of men. I will also make a statement which you will surely see verified. Before the clear revelation of spirit communication there will be a terrible war in different parts of the world. This will precede much clear communication. The entire world must be purified and cleansed before mortal man can see, through his spiritual vision, his friends on this side, and it will take just this line of action to bring about a state of perception. Friend, kindly think on this."

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

ROMANCE that has been budding in the smart set, much to the interest of the congenial parties who were observing its development, culminated last evening in the twilight wedding of Miss Myrtle A. White, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Brown of Oakland, and Herman Julius Hauser, prominent club man of this city and the son of Julius Hauser, founder of the packing-house of that name. The ceremony was performed by Justice Summerfield at his home on Van Ness avenue, just as the sun was setting. Immediately following the guests, including relatives only, repaired to the Athletic Club, where an elaborate supper was served. For the service the attractive bride wore an imported creation of green satin and she carried a shower of Cecile Brunner roses. Mrs. Brown, the bride's mother, was matron of honor, and Julius Hauser, the groom's father, was best man. For the occasion Mrs. Summerfield adorned her beautiful home with thousands of forget-me-nots and Cecile Brunner arranged in gold baskets. A honey-moon outing will take the young couple to Coronado. Later they will reside at the Bryson.

Approaching Wedding.

Mrs. W. M. Nelson and her daughter, Miss Kathryn, of Portland, Ore., are the house guests of Mrs. C. M. Patten of South Grand avenue. They have come to attend the wedding of Miss Sarah Patten and Frank P. Doherty, at which event Miss Kathryn will be one of the attendants. While here Miss Kathryn will spend part of her time visiting Miss Helen Margaret Burbee, daughter of Mrs. George L. Burbee of Hollywood.

Miss Florence Woodhead, also a member of the Patten-Doherty bridal party, has just returned from a trip through the National Forest Reserve of Yosemite. She will leave her country home in San Jacinto this week for a trip to San Diego at which she will remain with Miss Patten until after the wedding.

Mrs. U. C. Wilder, a prominent club woman of Yuma, has been the guest of Mrs. Patten throughout the summer. She expects to be joined here by her husband, and they will remain at the Patten home until after the wedding.

Invitations Out.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lantz for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Lenore, and Harry de Dornier McKinlay. The fashionable affair will take place at St. John's Episcopal Church the 16th inst. at 3:30 o'clock. The young people will be at home after November 1, at Eaglewood, N. Y.

Mrs. Letts to Entertain.

Mrs. Arthur Letts will entertain today at her Hollywood home with a luncheon in compliment to the Misses Margaret Goodrich and Hazel Bliss, two attractive young New York girls, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brinton Barham. Besides the visitors and their hostess, Mrs. Letts has asked Miss Corinne de la Motte, Winifred Maxon, Miss Virginia Walsh and Mrs. Arthur Letts, Jr.

At Balboa Beach.

Mrs. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Kierulff and daughter, No. 857 St. Andrews place, are spending a month at Balboa Beach.

Winter League to Have Stars.

GARDEN SPOT
FOR PLAYERS.Imperial Valley Mecca of Pastimers.High-Class League Planned for Winter.Lopes and Arbogast Sign Fast Players.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Imperial Valley, suspected by many being the original Garden of Eden, this winter will be the mecca of our winter pastimers.They have been deriving a lot of pleasure from the soil down there, and some of the leading citizens, finding that they have more money than they can spend through the ordinary channels, have decided to give the luxury of a regular league.They will hire regular ball players, and will pay regular salaries.The people there have never learned to play. They grow the most obese citizens, the most rotund watermelons, the most corpulent cantaloupes,
and the fattest crops generally, and they have taken up baseball as a side issue, and are going to have a league composed of the best talent that the region can afford—meaning talent recruited from the major and class AAleagues. It also will be the first low-sea-level league in this or any other country.There will be four cities in the circuit—Imperial, Brawley and Palm Springs. They grow the most obese
citizens, the most rotund water-
melons, the most corpulent cantaloupes,
and the fattest crops generally, and

cuit—Imperial, Brawley and Palm Springs. They grow the most obese
citizens, the most rotund water-
melons, the most corpulent cantaloupes,
and the fattest crops generally, and
they have taken up baseball as a
side issue, and are going to have a league

Big Things Brewing.

The placing of a second team in San Francisco is believed to be a preliminary step in increasing the Coast League circuit from six to eight clubs.This action was forecast by The Times months ago, and a month ago, and the probabilities of expansion were outlined at that time.The league is bound to have eight clubs within the next two years, but the practicability of expanding next season is problematical. The acquisition of Seattle is essential to these plans, and as that city is the property of the Northwestern League considerable red tape may have to be unwound before it can be appropriated.Still, if it came down to warding off an invasion, Seattle might be grabbed on short notice. Rumors have filtered in from San Francisco to the effect that Wolverton is after the lease on Recreation Park. If this proves to be a fact it means that big things are brewing in the Coast League. By acquiring Recreation Park the Coasters, it is believed, could effectively block any invasion
as far as San Francisco is concerned, and no league can hope to flourish on the Coast without a club in that city, which for a long time has been the financial backbone of the present circuit.

League Makes Progress.

The Coast League has steadily advanced, all opinions to the contrary, notwithstanding, nevertheless, and it will continue to do so.From the ramshackle parks and the "skinned" diamonds of a few years ago to the palatial plants of today is quite a jump. Where the fans formerly writhed around on pine planks and accumulated splinters in the seat of their pants, they now loiter in Cokesy chairs of the latest pattern.Such a thing as a chair in the grand stand was unknown in this league four years ago. Pine planks were deemed the only proper furniture.In classification the league had advanced first from an "outlaw" circuit, comprised of teams composed largely of mediocre players footloosed around one or two stars, to a class-A organ-

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—San Francisco and Los Angeles are doing a deal of disputing over the possession of second place, the Seals again pulling the Angels down on even terms today.The way the Angels fopped around would indicate that they are not fond of firing high. They booted and kicked the ball in bunches in a couple of innings, and the poor support seemed to send "Slim" Love sailing in the air. The result was the easiest sort of a victory, the score at the finish being 9 to 1.

SCORE CLOSE.

For five innings the game was a close affair, the Seals leading 2 to 1.
Then two errors paved the way for a four-run rally in the sixth and the game was sailed down for the afternoon. Justin Fitzgerald followed with a home-run drive inside of the park and a series of three hits in the sixth added to the large lopsided score.After getting by the first two innings in great form, Love ran amuck in the third. Corban singled solidly to left, but was caught flat-footed off first. With a dead out in sight, Love tried to ball away. Corban racing to third. Boles menced up Page's short peg home and the runner continued the circuit. Schmidt walked and Lelfield sacrificed. Fitzgerald singled to center scoring another tally.

ABSTEIN OFF SCORE.

Abstein led off the fourth with a double to left center. Ellis was fanned, and Moore grounded out to O'Leary. Abstein moving up to third from whence he scored on a low pitch delivered by Lelfield.The sixth was the wild and woolly inning. Fitzgerald drove one through Moore's legs. O'Leary sacrificed and once again Love erred in throwing to first. Hard singles by Schaller and Downs counted two tallies. Tobin sacrificed. Corban's drive to left counted the fourth run.

A HOME RUN.

In the following inning Fitzgerald, first up, lined one behind right and center and by some beautiful sprinting made the circuit before the ball could be relayed in.Singles by Charles, Schmidt and Lel-field sandwiched with an infield out and a steal rung up the final two runs.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday gave Charles K. Mohler an opportunity to resign as railroad engineer for the board. If his resignation is not forthcoming by the time of the meeting today, the board will declare the position vacant.

Through the good offices of Councilman Snowden, the Huntington Land Company has agreed to make a concession to Boyle Heights property owners and take $5000 less for the proposed library site at First and Chicago streets than the awards made by the court in condemnation proceedings.

The Public Works Committee of the City Council decided yesterday to file the latest protests against the Madison-Virgil storm drain system, and recommended that the Board of Public Works at once execute the contract for construction.

The mother of baby William Elliott, who lodged a charge of kidnapping against Mrs. Leonard Minter, following with a writ of habeas corpus declares that the latter was concealed in her own home at the time she was alleged to have left the State with the child. Yesterday Mrs. Minter produced the baby in court. The hearing was continued until Saturday.

STORM DRAIN WILL PROCEED.

PROTESTS NOT TO DELAY LINK OF DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

Public Works Committee Decides to Recommend Execution of Contract by Board, After Hearing Plans of State Normal School Head and Property Owners.

It looks now as though there is a field for the construction of the Madison-Virgil storm drain, which is to be a portion of the greater storm drain system to handle flood waters of the northwest and west. The last protest of property owners on the higher lands has proved unavailing.

The Public Works Committee of the City Council yesterday had another public hearing on the subject. Property owners in the lower lands and President Millspaugh of the State Normal School so vividly set forth the need of the relief asked for that the committee decided to recommend that the Board of Public Works at once execute the contract for the work.

Bearing the official protest of Mayor Rose, representing the city of Los Angeles, a delegation of seventeen members of the Los Angeles branch of the American Society of Professional Engineers will leave this afternoon by special car on the Salt Lake route for Milwaukee. Their purpose is to bring to this city the meeting of the association in 1915.

This year's session will open in Milwaukee next Tuesday. The delegation going from Los Angeles includes former Councilman John Topham, Martin Paulsen, Thomas J. Ray, Charles G. Baillie, William Traister, F. J. Fischer, O. D. Gray, R. E. Church, R. Bacon, B. Smock, John Proper, William Russell, R. B. King and G. Gillespie.

FOLD JUST SO.
City employees must stick to the paper towels; the Council has gone on record against bringing back the time-tried roller towel and insist upon the use of the paper napkins. It is possible a school of instruction will be started to alter city employees' just how to fold the bits of paper so as to get them to absorb the moist moisture.

This is an economic question at the City Hall. The first of the year, on recommendation of the Health Commissioner, the roller towel system was discarded and the new system was installed. The towel cost jumped up amazingly and an additional appropriation of $500 was asked for to cover the outlay.

Now comes the Supply Committee, and it figures that if more towels can be kept in the budget allowance of $260, it is explicit and says: "We further recommend that the Board of Public Works purchase the employees of departments under its jurisdiction to fold the paper towels before using."

CITY HALL BEWILDERED.
City Electrician Manahan will start today for visit to eastern cities to study fire alarm and police telegraph systems with a view to determining what can be done to improve in this city. The City Council has appropriated $450 for this trip and the Board of Public Works has granted Mr. Manahan forty days' leave of absence.

Bids for the construction of the bridge across the Arroyo at Avenue 41 will be opened by the Board of Public Works on September 14. Property owners in the vicinity yesterday applied to the board for permission to dump earth in the fills necessary for the approaches, to the bridge.

B. Wucetich was awarded a contract by the Board of Public Works yesterday for the construction of the sanitary sewers in the Vineyard district. His bid was $17,364, and he has 130 days within which to complete the work.

Ornamental lighting posts are to be placed on Mariposa street, Harvard and Wilshire boulevards, and the Board of Public Works yesterday received from the City Electrician a statement that an offer has been made to furnish uniform posts for the entire district for $2 each.

The new rate for telephones put into effect by the telephone companies the beginning of the fiscal year increases the cost of 'phones at the City Hall $53 per month. The Board of Public Works yesterday directed the Council for an appropriation to meet this increase.

At the City Hall.

The Public Works Committee yesterday received the petition of the Pacific Electric Company for a given extension of six months' time within which to lower its tracks on Los Angeles street to conform to the recently installed paving. Meanwhile the company will be permitted to grade the paving up to the present tracks.

COMMISSION INVOLVED.

The District Court of Appeal has granted the petition of the Board of Public Works for a writ of mandamus commanding Judge Works to settle a statement offered in behalf of a motion for a new trial in a case in which Johnson was sued by M. A. Copps for a commission alleged to have been earned in the sale of real estate, the lower court having found for the defendant.

he does not take advantage of this opportunity the board, at today's session, will adopt a resolution declaring the office vacant.

This is the outcome of the long-continued discussion as to the value the city has been receiving for the $2400 a month salary paid to Railroad Engineer Mohler.

The Budget Committee failed to make provision in this year's budget for his salary. The belief of some of the members of the Council was that the work of Mr. Mohler was too impracticable; that he was making plans for municipal improvements that could not be put into effect for years to come, and that by that time conditions might be so changed that the work would be valueless. Mr. Mohler's tactics in obstructing proceedings for the new arcade depot and his public statements before the City Club in regard to the power bonds also were ranking spots with some of the Councilmen.

A committee was appointed to investigate his work. This committee held its last conference yesterday with the Board of Public Utilities, and was informed that the board could not along without Mr. Mohler's services, as other men in the department could do the work he was accomplishing. In a letter to the City Council, the committee stated that the board called Mr. Mohler into conference and gave him an opportunity to resign, but he did not signify his determination. If the resignation is not forthcoming before the session of the board this afternoon, summary action will be taken.

The resolution that doubtless will be passed will set forth that Mr. Mohler was engaged to do a specific work; that this work—that of making a valuation of the street railways—is completed, and that the demand for the engineer's services has ceased, begin its own road, in connection with the fortification of the harbor, in which the city is vitally interested.

WOULD RUSH WORK.

HARBOR FORTIFICATION.

"Orders from Washington indicate that rapid work is desired," states Maj. Raymond, resident government engineer, in a letter to the City Council, presented yesterday, urging that immediate steps be taken to prepare streets at the harbor front for the necessary heavy hauling that the government work will require.

The matter was referred to the Board of Public Works, and it asked the City Engineer for an immediate report. Members of the Public Works Committee of the Council will make a personal investigation, so that there need be no delay in carrying through the engineer's recommendations.

Maj. Raymond states that the project will require a large amount of hauling to the United States reservation at Fort Ord. The project will be by way of Pacific avenue at Twenty-sixth street to Thirty-second street, thence on this street to the city boundary, where the government will construct the necessary heavy hauling that the government work will require.

FIGHT FOR BOY WAXES WARMER.

MOTHER ACCUSES GUARDIAN OF HIDING HIM.

Unfitness of Both Parents Alleged by Attorney Who Desires to Introduce Evidence in Court—Child to Be Produced When Case Is Resumed in Juvenile Court.

Mrs. William Elliott, chorus girl, who is making a strenuous fight to recover the custody of her baby son, William, declared yesterday that Mrs. Leonard Minter, charged with kidnapping the boy, had been hiding in her home at Glendale.

Mrs. Minter, her husband and the boy were present in the Juvenile Court yesterday when the proceedings in habeas corpus came on. The Elliotts were also present, and no love was lost in the states the women exchanged.

Attorney Edmonds, representing the Mintners, raised the point that a divorce suit is pending in the Elliott case and that one of the allegations in the complaint is the unfitness of both father and mother for the custody of baby Elliott. He stated he desired to introduce evidence, but this was not gone into at this time. Judge Taft continuing the matter until tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Minter, who has learned to love the baby, refuses to give him up. Mrs. Elliott, as the young woman demands him, as having the best right. To evade summons it is alleged that Mrs. Minter fled with the baby and a kidnapping charge was filed against her. Later a writ of habeas corpus was granted, the understanding being that Mrs. Minter and the boy would be produced in court yesterday.

"SHY" ONE JUDGE.

RAILWAY AFTER ANOTHER.

Balliff Woods will make a trip to Murietta Hot Springs today, and all because there are not enough superior court judges in town to validate an order fixing the bond of the Supervisors at $20,000 for the ensuing fiscal year.

The law requires ten judges of the Superior Court to fix the bond of the Supervisors before the first Monday in September. There was a scramble for judges yesterday, but only nine could be reached. Judge Sherk was caught just as he was leaving for the beach when Judge Sherk and made a hurried trip to the courthouse.

The order has been signed by Judges Sherk, Morrison, Jackson, Wellborn, Taft, Rives, York and Craig. Judge McCormick is at Murietta. Hot Springs, and as he is the most nearly available of the judges who are away, Balliff Woods was authorized to make the journey to that resort.

POINTS OF VIEW.

SPRING VERSUS AUTUMN.

Spring and autumn mated. Autumn grew cold when spring, joyous and high-spirited, sought to go to the company. Autumn went to Deputy District Attorney Ong and asked for a complaint for spring, saying she went joy riding and he could not control her. He wanted spring held as a dependent child.

Autumn posed as Charles St. Clair, aged 45 years. Spring was represented by Mrs. Edna St. Clair, just 16. After consulting Judge Taft of the Juvenile Court, Mr. Ong issued a complaint and Mrs. St. Clair responded. She was not a mild, melting spring. In fact, she was indignant. Her eyes flashed.

He denied joy riding and pooh-poohed the idea of her becoming a dependent child, but the kindest spirit do the trouble lay with her husband, who was, in so many words, old and too particular.

SCHOOL SITE SETTLED. The turmoil in Hyde Park over the selection of a site for the new school yesterday when Fred W. Forrester of the Angelus Mesa Land Company moved the court to dismiss the injunction suit against the Board of Trustees. The suit was dismissed. Mr. Forrester stipulating that he would waive all claims of damages, and the action paying their own costs.

WIDOW GETS ESTATE. Frank Mansfield executed his will in 1905, and on the same day he drew a codicil. Both instruments were filed for probate yesterday by the executor, A. Mansfield, who receives the property in this county valued at $31,000. Mr. Mansfield also owned property in Kansas. He real estate in Angeles county was worth $5000. He had a local bank $25,000 in cash.

BIG FIGURES. The cash received and real estate distributed by Jewish Consumptive Relief Association since 1907 totaled $1,218,150.85. The total cash received were $50,523.14. These figures do not include the large estates in limitation, namely, the Walden and the Bards.

ASKS NO BONDS. Deputy District Attorney Powell threatened to move the intention of Joseph Burns to look after his four children that he asked Judge Wellborn yesterday to release him on his own recognizance, pending a hearing. Burns appeared before the court on a failure-to-provide bond charge. He had been arrested in Fresno and brought to the city on the complaint of his wife, Freda. The BUILDING OF SANATORIUM BY Jewish Consumptive Relief Association Is Commenced. The building of the sanatorium at Duarte for the benefit of those suffering from the white plague, by the Jewish Consumptive Relief Association, is commenced by the committee of the Municipal Charity Association to investigate the institution. As a result the hospital has been officially indorsed by that body.

With the funds at their command, results have been accomplished, but we feel that all money has not been expended as judiciously as could be. However, no evidence of personal gain has made itself manifest in the expedition. There has been the desire of all connected with the institution. Therefore, with none but the kindest spirit do we make recommendations, recognizing the necessity of this work and the financial support it needs to bring it to the highest degree of efficiency.

EXTENDING SERVICE. Motor Coach Company Will Start Lines in San Francisco on Monday, From Ferry to Exposition. The Pacific Motor Coach Company, which is now operating lines between this city, Venice and Pasadena, will start its service in San Francisco on Monday, using the same type of double-deck motor coaches. The service at San Francisco will be from the Market-street ferry to the Fillmore-street entrance to the exposition. Murray M. Harris, president of the coach company, expresses the opinion that the line will be largely patronized, as there are at present from 25,000 to 30,000 persons visiting the exposition grounds on Sunday and holidays. The buses used, he says, are larger than those in use either in New York or London.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS. There are telegrams at the Western Union for Antonio Basterrechea, Jack Chapen, Walter T. Fishleigh, Miss Lillian Hansen, Guillermo Hernandez, Harry James, Mrs. J. F.
